September

Once again September is here and the 8 o'clock buses and streetcars are packed with sleepy-eyed UC students on their way to an 8:30 class. Individual cars, too, arrive vieing for the parking places left on Clifton and University Avenues. The campus was showing signs of new life as scenes of activity were seen everywhere—students talking to their friends or professors, some hurrying off to a class, and a few enjoying Indian summer. Yes, our "Street-car College" becomes quite a busy place as the shades of autumn hover over the Baarcat University and its students return to renew friendships and to continue their education. Even though most of the students come from the city, there are some who have been attracted from all parts of the United States and the world, giving UC its cosmopolitan atmosphere. The outstanding qualities of the faculty and the progressiveness of the administrative staff make the courses of value to the student and give him an education which is adequate in all aspects.

As the first day of school drew nigh, increased activity was noticeable in the vicinity of the dorms, the homes of out-of-town students. As the new students viewed for the first time their surroundings for the coming year, excitement rose within them, for their minds were busily contemplating the opportunities which a college career held for them. As they settled in their rooms and got acquainted with their roommates, their fears concerning campus life were forgotten as the strangeness wore off and familiarity with the school took its place. Adjusting to college life became a natural process and the days were too busy for any pangs of "homesickness". To studies and campus activities was added the responsibility of taking care of their own rooms and deciding which roommate should wear the last clean shirt. The days sped by in this way until all became a true part of UC.

INTER-DORM COUNCIL

Working on the assumption that young women of college age are capable of handling their own problems and curing their own cases of home sickness, UC has set up an elaborate but efficient system of student government which regulates the "dorm dwellers". The Council is composed of the main officers of the dorm and it is at their meetings that policy is determined and the rules for everything from fire drills to noisy goldfish are set up. Under these officers come the Corridor Counselors who actually see that quiet hours are carried out and who hear the sad tales of "How I got 6254 demerits in one week-end" from a woe-begone freshman. The smooth working of the dorm machinery is proof that the Inter-Dorm Council takes its job seriously and does it well.

FRIENDLY REUNION AT MEMORIAL DORM

NAME AND ADDRESS PLEASE

Dorm life can be compared to one continuous slumber party with homework and studies included. Ask any girl who lives there!

With eager anticipation the arriving students drove down the "last mile" to the dorm. During the last few months of the previous year they had calmly climbed over piles of rubbish and walked under ladders with their fingers crossed. The dorm had been undergoing a face-lifting and the occupants had been assured that it would be finished by the fall. Thus their anticipation! But as they climbed the steps, laden down with suit cases, hat boxes, and stuffed animals, they saw that drastic changes were still being made although the work was fast being completed. Workmen, scattered throughout what was eventually to be new lounges and beau parlors, remained hard at work as the girls struggled through the halls to the temporary office. After receiving room assignments and greeting friends, they settled down to the task of getting their rooms arranged and decorated for the beginning of the busy school year ahead.

Memorial Dorm is located next to the Men's Gym near the football stadium. The outstanding feature of the dorm's outward appearance is the tower and the pride of the girls is the new unit which contains an infirmary, laundry room, and shampoo room in addition to modernly furnished rooms.

MEMORIAL DORM

The girls who come from out of town to live in the dorm find that they are joining a family and an organization which has been planned to provide for their needs and wants. The adequate but lenient supervision follows the idea that rules are made only when needed and the moderate number of rules that do exist have been carefully chosen and are just as carefully enforced. The sudden change from Mother's apron strings brings new responsibilities to those who are learning, perhaps for the first time, what it is to be completely "on their own". Their college education includes much more than just history and mathematics. Valuable lessons in getting along with people and balancing a budget are learned in everyday practice—learned the hard way, perhaps, but nevertheless, learned! Trying to get up for that 8:30, searching for the proper color drapes to match the bedspreads, and even discovering the most tactful way to break up a permanent-looking gab fest are a few of the useful bits of information that can be gained at the dorm.

INTER-DORM COUNCIL

As its constitution states, "to foster and promote unity and co-operation among all the men's dormitories" is the job of the Men's Interdormitory Council. The task of governing the dorms and co-ordinating their activities is indeed a big one. Each of the men's dorms elects its own council to preside over its activities. The president and a second officer of each council convene to form the Inter-Dorm council. Dean Bill Alderman serves as advisor to this group which is highly functional in making dorm life more pleasant for all concerned.

Vet's dorm is the last outpost of that dwindling species on UC's campus. It is well designed to make the ex-GI feel at home, for it is a rambling, wooden, barracks-like structure set in the center of a desert-like parking lot across University Avenue. Here the battle of the bankbook and the big promoting campaign are daily topics of conversation, and bunk duty is still the favorite pastime.

Seriously, the vets have made a large contribution to all the colleges, setting a good example for the young fry around school. They realize the value of concentration and self-discipline, and with their experienced background have added immeasurably to both classes and extracurricular activities.

AUBURN DORM

Off in the wilds of East Clifton is Auburn Dorm, home away from home (and campus) of a sturdy group of upper classmen. Each sunrise they make their perilous way through fog and traffic lights to UC, to absorb some knowledge and a little college atmosphere. Actually, these fellows make a home out of the old stone mansion they inhabit and real friendships are formed there. Together they live, study, and S. T. B. (shoot the bull—an old dorm custom). And you can always find the boys at 2343 Auburn participating in all the intramural sports, fighting it out for old A. D.

CLIFTON DORM

Although their quarters and furnishings don't begin to compare with the Terrace Plaza, all of the 40 residents of the Clifton Dorm are pleased with life as it is at AVON 9394. Just as the T. P. is noted for its Gourmet Room, the boys at the C. D. are equally renowned for their culinary arts in their own kitchen. Early snacks, late snacks, sandwiches and occasionally even full meals are turned out by this eager band of chefs who also find time for intramural athletics, sleeping, buzzing to the Busy Bee, and going to school. President Bill Urbanowicz, "Veep" Joe Markey, and Secretary-Treasurer Dean Young are the whips that keep all the men working as a team.

VETSVILLE

Vetsville stands as living proof that when you are young you can take anything. How does Mrs. Vet manage to get her wash done in a laundry shared by 34 others? How does Mr. Vet concentrate amidst the midnight screams of his and his neighbors' broods? How does one fit a family of four and all his worldly possessions into 240 square feet? We don't know, certainly—but we do know that despite the discomforts of the miniature town, its inhabitants find the answers and some fun besides. They have picnics, barn dances, parties, and even their own newspaper, "The Vetsville Occasional" (published occasionally). And somehow we know that after the memory of crowded rooms and luke-warm water have faded a little, the Vetsvilleans will remember the tiny community on the hillside with real affection.

Amateur psychiatrists would be fascinated by the entrance examinations given to all new students on registration day. While a few exams are held for special applicants to determine whether or not he is ready for a university course, the vast majority are for the individual's personal guidance. One is an I. Q. test (results kept strictly private) and the other is the Kuder Apptitude Test. From questions such as "Would you rather dig ditches, train monkeys, or candle eggs", it is determined whether a person is best suited to clerical work, sales, or any of the other seven occupational fields. And usually the results tally closely with the person's own vocational interests, abilities, and temperament.

ORIENTATION BOARD

"Welcome to your campus!" Orientation Board extends this greeting to every new U. C. student. The Orientation Day Convocation initiates the new students to college life, to U. C. spirit, and to a "hello" campus. The Mixer held in the Lounge helps the Freshies get acquainted.

Oh, that first confusing day! A profusion of explanation, advice and tests keep the freshmen busy until the Men's Senate and the Junior Advisors take over with an entertainment in the afternoon.

Registration Day, sometimes known as Wait-Your-Turn Day, begins with the filling out of the big segmented cards that ask the same questions fourteen times. After the student empties his mind onto the card, he proceeds to the Registrar's Office. Here again he stands in line and counts the heads in front of him. Upon reaching the counter the student surrenders his big card to the clerk, who puts lots of numbers on it and stamps it with either a lion, a pig, or a dog. Then off he goes to the cashier to trade his money for the little card that says, "Paid". At the next stop he receives that ever-vital Activity Book and "Please Prints" for the last time that day. Now that the student is officially in for the first semester, he takes off for the Grill to sit over black coffee. He meets one more staggering line that day—the book line. It seems that five thousand other students decided to buy books at the same hour; but utilizing a little patience and stamina, the student gets into the Bookstore and buys all a person needs, except brains, to graduate.

Administration

DR. RAYMOND WALTERS

The one person on our campus whom every student learns to recognize is, of course, our President, Raymond Walters. This man, leading the entire university, is well qualified for his position, for he combines his talent for education and business with his ability in leadership. The warm friendly atmosphere on the campus is due in part to him, for he is never too busy for a bright smile or a greeting. He is not too busy to greet the students at a Pep Rally, nor was he at all unwilling to go to City Hall and plead for the extension of the campus into Burnet Woods.

DEAN NORMAN P. AUBURN

Norman P. Auburn is one of U. C.'s many B. M. O. C.'s. In his case it could well stand for Busiest Man On Campus. Dr. Auburn has been vice president of the University since 1945 and Dean of University of Administration since 1943. As financial and business officer, Dean Auburn finds on his desk problems of the whole university. In addition, he is responsible for U. C.'s public relations. As a former member, Dean Auburn was well-qualified to direct an effective program in connection with the Student Activities Committee, the Union Board, and the Board of Publications.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Though they number but nine, the Board of Directors serve as the nucleus about which the entire complex structure of the University is built. Composed of prominent Cincinnati businessmen, civic leaders and professional men, their duties range from placing the "No Smoking" signs about the campus to hiring new professors. As silent testimony to their never ceasing efforts on behalf of the University stand such things as New McMicken hall and our up and coming athletic plant.

DEAN LILLIAN M. JOHNSON

Dean Lillian M. Johnson, our Dean of Women, is a friendly person with a smile and a kind word for all. Even though busy with her multiple duties, such as adviser to the Student Council, Junior Advisers, Women's Inter-Dorm Council, and Women's Senate, she always finds time to talk with a student over any social or academic problem. She takes a genuine interest in the students, giving attention to their problems and helpful advice when needed. Each woman at the university is well known by the members of our dean's staff. Dean Johnson is an understanding person who makes our life at UC as profitable and enjoyable as she possibly can.

DEAN ROBERT W. BISHOP

Almost as soon as a freshman sets his foot on campus, he hears of that outstanding personality, Dr. Robert W. Bishop, our Dean of Men. From that time until he graduates he will probably have many occasions to profit from the Dean's knowledge and vast experience. As an advisor for Student Council, Inter-Fraternity Council, and the Union, the Dean performs his official tasks well. To add to the duties of this busy faculty member, he was recently elected President of the Association of College Honor Societies, in addition to being the National Secretary of Omicron Delta Kappa. The Dean's office is the center for many school activities and its influence is felt by every student on campus.

APPLIED ARTS

In the mazes of Swift Hall, in the temporary buildings, in the bookstore, and in the grill, can be seen the Applied Art student with tackle box, T-square, and drawing board in hand. Smocks, men's shirts, and khaki pants become very colorful with time as they are spattered with various mediums of paint, charcoal, and ink. Seventh week comes all too soon with the traditional fluster, scurrying, and all night work sessions, and swamps the poor frantic soul who mutters mournfully, "I can't get a design." This atmosphere, through the guidance of its professors and Dean Pickering, is full of fun, inspiration and ambition.

Much of the co-ordination between student government and the planning of gay parties is taken care of by the Applied Arts Tribunal. They supervise the bumming room by planning the exhibitions of student work. One of the most unusual of these exhibitions was the one presented by the landscape architects who surprised everyone by bringing the outdoors in, and having a lovely display of chrysanthemums, other fall flowers, and shrubbery. Stan Herman, president, in conjunction with officers Jean Runck, Joan Kreigel, and Jack Mueller, meet on the first Thursday of every month to lay plans for the Freshman Mixer, Egg Nog Party, and Beaux Arts Ball. This ambitious group also awards a scholarship each year, in memory of Herman Schneider.

DELTA PHI DELTA

On May 24, 1941, the Alpha Zeta chapter of Delta Phi Delta, the largest national art honorary, was founded on U. C.'s campus. This talented group claims as its members those students who have maintained an above average standard in their art and scholastic enterprises for two consecutive years. Some of their work can be seen at their Christmas sale which is displayed in the Union, held to increase the scholarship fund. It includes an intriguing array of greeting cards, textiles, ceramics and decorations.

SCARAB

Scarab, the oldest college fraternity of its kind has as its purpose the study and advancement of architecture and art among college students. Competition is the keynote of this upper-classmen's organization which requires a "B" average for initiation. This is evidenced by the Spring Water Color Exhibit sponsored by Scarab each year. Every other Friday afternoon, room 22 in the Chemistry Building plays host to the Scarab Artist Film Series which the entire campus is invited to attend.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

As the Bus. Ad. grads of 1950 leave, taking with them fond memories of courses in calculus, economics, money and banking, economic history, and statistics, they can look back with pride on the record of their college in the past five years. Veterans of World War II dominated this class with their keener, more comprehensive outlook on extracurricular activities and their seriousness of purpose in the classrooms. Although the total enrollment has fallen off slightly in the past year, it is still more than double that of the average pre-war year. This class was also the first to graduate having had a full year's use of modern Hanna Hall, the new home of the College of Business Administration.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION TRIBUNAL

You would have to go a long way (possibly to the "Saratoga") to find a more industrious group of students than those of the Bus. Ad. Tribunal. Taking good care of that two dollar activity fee pried loose from each student and acting as the governing body for the students of their college, these elected representatives carry out many worth-while programs. They use their monthly meetings to plan events such as the annual honors which are given to outstanding students of the college. On the social side there is the yearly dance and with the closing of school, the annual Student-Faculty Picnic. The baseball game between these two rival teams is the highlight of the day and the strict class-room teacher never seems quite the same to a student after he strikes out with the bases loaded.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi, the oldest and first of all the commercial professional fraternities in the field of commerce, is represented on the UC campus by its Eta Chapter. The membership includes men of the College of Business Administration who have high scholastic standing and outstanding personal qualities. An active participation in campus activities is another prerequisite to membership. To provide the members with current information on conditions in the business world this group invites leading figures in the field of commerce to speak at their semi-monthly meetings throughout the year.

BETA GAMMA SIGMA

The Dean's list seems a relatively small accomplishment for members of Beta Gamma Sigma, commercial scholastic honorary. To become a member, a student must be in the top seven per cent of his class as a junior or high ten per cent as a senior. This group indeed qualifies for the title of the "Phi Beta Kappa of Business Administration" combining practical experience with intelligence to accomplish their goals.

PI CHI EPSILON

In the predominantly masculine fields of engineering and business administration, Phi Chi Epsilon is designed to give a reassuring pat on the back to women outstanding in scholarship and character. Each year a tea for incoming freshman and a Christmas party are given, scholarships are awarded to the most deserving girl of each class, and a ring given to the highest ranking senior.

ENGINEERING

From the midst of Baldwin and Swift Halls and the Chemistry Building, home of the College of Engineering, come the builders of tomorrow's America. One of the top engineering colleges of the nation, it is also the birthplace of the co-operative system of education. The job of keeping the wheels of engine school turning falls to its popular dean, C. Albert Joerger. Ohms and coulombs, stresses and strains, aspect ratios and dihedrals, fluid flows and viscosities are just a few of the everyday terms of the slip-stick boys that seem quite Greek to the other students. Contrary to the beliefs of many, however, the life of the engineer is not all sweat and strain. Seventh week brings to an end the grind and the students go out into industry to put into practice the book learnin' of the previous term.

DEAN C. ALBERT JOERGER

Under the able leadership of its president, Ray Schubert, the members of the Engineering Tribunal have worked to make the Tribunal more than a nominal group. They have turned it into a living, productive organization by prodding the departments under them into a more active contribution to campus life.

The week of quadrangle activities in March, which included Co-op Day and the Engineer's Ball, was produced partly through the efforts of the Engineering Tribunal. The Tribunal helped supervise all of these activities but the Ball was its special contribution. Burt Bailey worked hard as chairman of the dance committee. It seems to be generally accepted that "St. Patrick was an engineer"; therefore, it is becoming a tradition for the engineers to celebrate the birthday of St. Pat by laying aside slide rules and enjoying a big evening of fun and frolic, free from worry about classes and quizzes.

TAU BETA PI

This past year has marked the thirty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Ohio Beta chapter of Tau Beta Pi. Now one of seventy chapters spread over the country, it is an organization formed "to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates in the College of Engineering, or by their attainments as alumni in the field of engineering." Members are chosen from the top eighth of their class as Juniors, or the upper fifth as Seniors. The year's activities included the selecting of the honor Pre-Junior who is eligible for membership, and constructive discussions on engineering subjects.

INSTITUTE OF AERO SCIENCES The task of the aeronautical engineer is becoming increasingly more intricate as man surmounts the sonic barrier. The Institute of Aeronautical Sciences is an aggressive national organization of aeronautical engineers whose purpose it is to provide a meeting place for discussion of aeronautical subjects. Membership is open to upperclass engineers who are majoring in the field. At the weekly meetings the Aeros discuss recent developments ranging from aircraft power plants to meteorology—the aeronautical engineer must meet the challenge of Progress.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA Alpha Chi Sigma is a national fraternity for college men who are planning to use chemistry in their professional life. All members are taken in through the collegiate chapters, and upon graduation they move up to the professional chapters. Cincinnati's Alpha Delta had the national president, Clyde B. Hutchinson, and national secretary, John R. Kuebler, at its initiation.

O. S. P. E. The Ohio Society of Professional Engineers was founded for the purpose of getting men interested in the engineering profession. This group sponsors refresher courses for engineers who wish to take the state examinations and encourages them to join the profession. Each year O.S.P.E. sponsors a dance for all engineers thus providing social activity along with business.

A. I. Ch. E. The American Institute of Chemical Engineers was founded at UC in 1926. It is part of a national group and its purpose is to promote good will and friendship among its members as well as furthering the principles and objectives of the society. A. I. Ch. E.

runs two canteens in the Chemistry Building, the profits of which go to a scholarship fund. Active in sports as well as studies, each season it sponsors a team in the intramural program. On the social side, the group is known for the parties and entertainment it provides for the students at noon.

A TENDER MOMENT ON THE DANCE FLOOR

HARMONICAT AT INTERMISSION

ENGINEERS' BALL

The courses they take indicate that the engineers are hard-working boys, but once a year they direct their efforts to a different type of problem and solve it successfully by putting on their Engineers' Ball. Exclusively for the loyal followers of St. Pat, this dance is the occasion of more celebrating than the end of seventh week and more fun than a section change party. All slide rules and log tables are seen heading for the nearest exits as their owners exchange calculus for a date and mechanical drawing for a dance floor to make this evening one to be remembered through the long study sessions before the next Engineers' Ball.

A. S. C. E. To the rod and transit boys, the American Society of Civil Engineers offers an opportunity to become better acquainted with their chosen field. Meeting bi-monthly, ASCE furthers the professional spirit with talks and papers by outstanding men in the profession. A joint session with the Cincinnati section of the senior Society brings the members in contact with prominent local engineers. On the social side, frequent parties and picnics take minds off the usual stresses and strains. The Engineers' Ball was co-sponsored by ASCE with the other departmental groups this year.

ETA KAPPA NU

Eta Kappa Nu is the men's honorary fraternity for upper classmen in the College of Electrical Engineering. Membership in the organization is limited to those men who are outstanding in scholarship. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate high scholastic work and to promote and maintain good relations between students and faculty.

Each year a party in honor of the graduating members is given by the fraternity. Joining with other honorary engineering societies, Tau Chapter helps to conduct the annual "Honos" dance, always a gay affair.

E. E. The members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers luncheons and dinners to discuss mutual interests and to learn about the latest developments in the electrical fields of common interest. These meetings are held at seven week intervals. For guest speakers, practicing engineers are invited to advise the group on what is new in the electrical fields. Inspection trips are made to further demonstrate interesting projects. In this way, practical knowledge can be gained along with the theoretical knowledge acquired in the classroom.

PI TAU SIGMA

Pi Tau Sigma, national mechanical engineering honor fraternity, was founded at the University of Illinois in the year 1915. The Cincinnati Eta chapter, which grew out of a local campus organization known as Theta Chi Mu, received its charter in 1926. Members are selected from among outstanding senior, junior, and pre-junior students. Initiations are held twice a year followed by banquets and addresses by prominent professional men, and each year the chapter awards a Handbook to the leading sophomore student. It takes an active part in Co-op Day, working with ASME to put on an interesting exhibit.

A. S. M. E. Founded in 1911, the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers has dedicated itself to the promotion of fellowship among engineering students, and to further interest in the field of Mechanical Engineering. The student organization was founded with the aim of acquainting students in this field with the parent society of professional engineers. At the regular weekly meetings, papers are read and affairs of the organization are discussed. Membership is open to students in their third, fourth, and fifth years of Mechanical Engineering.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Ec. is called the "how to catch a man" college by embittered classics majors but has accomplished many objectives other than turning out handy housewives. Boys (there have been some) as well as girls take courses in merchandising, business, textiles, dietetics, clothing, child care, and several liberal arts subjects. On the social calendar throughout the past year were various dinner parties which are given annually for the rest of the college by each of the four classes. These dinners are planned, prepared, and served by the members of each class. Another of the annual functions is the banquet held by the juniors in honor of the senior class. Dean Dyer and the Home Ec. faculty help to make this the most friendly and informal college on campus.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Ec. Tribunal has the affairs of its college firmly by the apron strings; it handles all the student government programs. Turning from housewifely chores like "Clean-up" campaigns, the Tribunal girls became perfect hostesses at their annual Faculty-Student Christmas dinner. Topping their list of projects for 1949-1950 was the open house based on the theme "Alice in Wonderland", given for high school senior girls from all over Ohio.

OMICRON NU Leadership ability, excellence in scholarship, and promise of achievement are factors which may grant an aspiring Home Ec. student a coveted Omicron Nu pin. This national honorary is open to second semester juniors and all qualifying seniors. Awards are presented by this group to an outstanding freshman and to the senior who has contributed most to the field of Home Economics. Alpha Theta Chapter for advanced training in Child Care.

TAU PI EPSILON Tau Pi Epsilon was established to stimulate interest in student training in the field of child care. Though small in number they show their worth by their constant hard work with their scholarship program. Members are chosen from the top 10 per cent of their class and are selected for their active interest and outstanding participation in this field of training. They are given an opportunity for advanced training in Child Care

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Ec. Club is composed of girls from the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes. The girls from each year are responsible for a dinner which is given for the fellow Home Economics students. The Christmas dinner and party put on by the juniors was never to be forgotten. The faculty members were delighted with their gifts from Santa. Bake and Candy sales make possible the contribution to the scholarship fund, and also provides the means to send a representative to the national convention of all college Home Economics Clubs.

DEAN GEORGE B. BARBOUR

LIBERAL ARTS

After three years of refuge in the library, TC building and parts unknown all over the campus, the college of Liberal Arts has finally moved into its new home in Cunningham Hall of New McMicken. The varied curriculum offered was supplemented with additional outstanding courses for the LA student body. Expansion with the new facilities is still going on. But, again content in their modern surroundings, the spirit of McMicken now pervades the halls anew. Here Deans Barbour and Holiday, returned from the realm of men without a country, will continue to govern the workings of the college with the skill and knowledge that has made them so popular with all the UC students and faculty.

This year keeping the widely scattered sections of students together was not such a difficult job for the LA Tribunal, especially with the appearance of New McMicken on the horizon. Work was completed for the lounge in Hanna Hall after a great deal of planning. As an organization whose primary function is the governing of the college in all fields not covered by the Student Council, the Tribunal was busy with ideas of an honor system and student-faculty rating system. Other functions included the awarding of two scholarships to freshman and the sponsoring of a speakers convocation. Funds were also appropriated to help out Inter-Departmental organizations. It wasn't all work though. The Tribunal sponsored a splendid Christmas party, and finally finished up a busy year with the yearly Spring Dance.

PHI BETA KAPPA

Phi Beta Kappa represents the finest in scholastic achievement in the College of Liberal Arts and can claim for membership students chosen from the upper fifteen percent of these candidates eligible for either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree. The fortunate but hard-working students who have maintained high scholastic averages throughout their college years are initiated in the spring into this honorary which stresses friendship, morality and intellectual achievement. The UC faculty roll also boasts many names of those who have attained this honor.

NURSING AND HEALTH

Besides giving the training supplied by a regular nursing school, the College of Nursing and Health gives its student a well-rounded academic education—which all adds up to a very busy four years. The girls work, live, and study at the Cincinnati General Hospital, putting in a good twelve hours or more each day with very little time for the "grill-gooning" that occupies the usual co-ed's day, and often not even the evenings are their own. It is an arduous course, but those who make it through know that they are prepared not only to give skilled and sympathetic nursing care, but also to take their place as intelligent and useful citizens.

NURSING AND HEALTH TRIBUNAL

The Nursing and Health Tribunal is one of the most active organizations of its kind among the UC colleges, for in addition to its regular administrative functions, it includes an extensive social organization for the rather house-bound girls. To enliven their hours off-duty, club meetings are held each night of the week, and include a glee club, a bridge club, a music appreciation group, and sports clubs, and several parties and dances are scheduled during the year. Another duty of the Tribunal is to set up the dorm rulings, and mete out suitable punishment for those who forget the dorm closing hours do not compare with the Yacht Club's.

TEACHERS COLLEGE

Down the halls of Teachers College walk today's pupils; tomorrow's teachers. Here, dreams of taking positions in educational fields are being fulfilled. A well-planned curriculum, along with the usual academic courses, includes art, dramatics, and music. Under the leadership of Dr. Carter V. Good, Dean of Teachers College, students may learn to instruct children from kindergarten through high school. Included in the work of U. C.'s future teachers are observation trips to various schools in the city and actual classroom teaching. This experience enables students to put into practice what they are taught in Teachers College. Each year many U. C. graduates go forward well-equipped to help train our youth to meet their problems with confidence and assurance.

DEAN CARTER V. GOOD

Although student teaching and education classes keep the "future teachers" pretty busy, a few find some time to take part in governing the Teachers College. This group, under the leadership of Jean Miller, plans the social calendar for the year. An orientation program for the incoming freshman, designed to give them a picture of what a young teacher of tomorrow has to expect, started the fall activities. The annual Thanksgiving Convocation and Christmas Open House were highlights of the year. Something new for T. C. Tribunal was the tea given for the faculty to promote a closer relationship between students and the teaching staff. Plans were discussed at this time to have a Saturday morning, all-student "coffee hour". The Spring Musical brought to a close the activities of this year's Teachers College Tribunal.

BUS. ED. CLUB Made up of Bus. Ed. majors, the Business Education club seeks to learn more of the problems of the business world. Prominent speakers of the management and labor factions give the members a true picture of the situation. A bake sale to raise money for Christmas baskets was another big project of the year.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Nowadays, when specialization is needed to excel in almost every field, many students return after receiving their B. A. or B. S. to gain by a post-graduate course a more specific, practical knowledge of his chosen subject. UC's Graduate School, under the guidance of Dean Hoke S. Green, offers further study in twenty-six departments to these eager scholarly types, who after laboring long in dim corners of the library will someday emerge, thesis in hand, to receive the coveted Masters or Doctors degree in their particular field.

DEAN FRANK S. ROWLEY

LAW

For those who aspire to the bench or the White House, the first stop on the way is the building at the corner of Calhoun and Clifton. The Cincinnati Law College rates high among the nation's finest, and in its halls men (and five women) wallow through legal tomes or that "Pony" of the profession, the "Canned Brief". High-grade scholars are rewarded by induction into the "Order of the Coif", or by being given the privilege of writing for the Cincinnati Law Revue, a top honor. The various legal fraternities often have guest speakers at their Monday meetings, who discuss current civic problems with an inside view. For even more legal light, there is the Case Club, which holds mock trials to give the young Patrick Henrys a chance to try their eloquence on innocent bystanders.

Dean of the Law College is Mr. Frank S. Rowley. Running such a large and complicated organization is a full time job, but besides keeping the administrative wheels turning, Dean Rowley also teaches classes in Contract Law. In the recent Gilman-Ohio State scare, he assured his classes that it just couldn't be. Another example of the up-to-the-minuteness of the curricula is the class in Federal Taxation—seems that the subject matter changes so much that the text is published as a loose-leaf notebook! Numbered among the law profs are many eminent Cincinnati jurists, including Carson Hoy, the County Prosecutor.

DEFENSE RESTS ITS CASE

DEAN STANLEY E. DORST

MEDICINE

It's a long jump from pre-med to med school, and the lucky few who make it find that it takes a lot of grinding and determination to stick it out. After the head-splitting entrance examination, the hopeful applicant spends several anxious months waiting for his letter of—he hopes—acceptance. If he is successful, the next fall he appears, white-coated and weak-kneed, to get cozy with the cadaver who is his companion every morning of the first semester. Soon he develops that casual attitude and off-hand technical conversation that is guaranteed to turn any layman green inside of three minutes. By second semester, he has really acquired the esprit de corps and accumulated several strange gadgets and lots of muscle jerk tests to try out on the family, friends and pet cat. So it goes for the next four years, until finally he can hang out a shingle of his very own.

The Cincinnati Medical School is descended from the Medical College of Ohio, which was chartered by the Ohio Legislature in 1819, and has gained a reputation as one of the finest in the country. Closely associated with the General Hospital, students are able to spend part of their later years in actual clinical observation.

While the school is an eight-to-five proposition and studying takes up many hours more, the med students find time for parties at the fraternity houses near the campus.

DEAN FRANK R. NEUFFER

EVENING COLLEGE

Those glittering lights that illuminate our campus each night throughout the school year are the guiding markers of education made available to those residents of Cincinnati who find it impossible to attend school under the regular day school program. Meeting the requirements of this group is the Evening College, under the direction of Dean Frank R. Neuffer. Classes are held in two sections with a few field trips scheduled on Saturdays. In addition a varied program of social events are planned by the students and faculty. Every attempt is made to provide a normal school-like atmosphere. Such activities as the "Night Times," the school newspaper, are successful methods of giving students what might be lacking of college life.

Dusk falls over the campus and there is a slight lull in the day's schedule. However, the university, instead of assuming a peaceful appearance well-earned at the end of a hard day, still hums with activity as more students arrive, joining in spirit the thousands who occupy the campus during the day.

HELLO . . . MY NAME IS . . .

The Rush Is On

In her new black dress and uncomfortably aware of her new hat, the freshman girl walks into her first Opening Tea and the seige begins. She obligingly drinks three cups of tea and five cups of punch that day, nibbles half-heartedly on canapes, and examines upstairs and down of eight different sorority houses. The next day, practically an old campaigner, she has accumulated small talk for the receiving lines, and learned that she doesn't have to smoke all the cigarettes offered her. From then on, parties lose their formality. Saddles and socks are in order and the parties are planned around amusing themes. Except for the agonizing wait for bids, she finds that rush parties can be fun. Faces that were just smiling blurs at the teas suddenly crystalize into the girls she went to high school with, and the world is her sophisticated oyster. The actives have an even rougher time; her day's work begins when the parties are over.

ROSE M. RUPP

Two representatives of each of the campus sororities along with Mrs. Rupp, assistant dean of Women, form Pan-Hellenic Council, governing body of the lady Greeks. From this group come decisions that shake the very foundations of campus life; for it is Pan-Hel that decides such matters as sorority scholarship, the rather confusing but successful "Quota System", and other sorority rules and regulations. Not to be overlooked is the work done in caring for an unfortunate war orphan. On the social side it's Pan-Hel that works along with Interfraternity Council in making the yearly Greek-Weekend successful.

The rushing season this year started long before September for the Alpha Chi's; they showed their rushes a newly decorated dining room and basement. The first trophy was won by Doris Brigham at the A. T. O. sweepstakes. Then they won the trophy at Homecoming for the Most Beautiful Float of the women's entries. In October the Alpha Chis had an old clothes party, and in November the Pledge Formal, held in the Sinton Rookwood Room. At Christmas time, they serenaded the old folks at Altenheim and then had their traditional Christmas party. Exchange dinners, football games, tea dances, parties and formals helped to complete this year and make it an unforgettable one for Alpha Chi.

"Where's the turpentine? What color goes with blue?" could be heard around the A. D. Pi house early last fall. To start off a busy rush season the former pledges redecored the downstairs making a new chapter room and play room. By September the house had that "come hither" look that makes one glad to be there and sorry to leave. The whirl of rushing started a season of study, work and fun. Soft music and fine entertainment made the pledge formal at Summit Hills Country Club one of the most memorable evenings of the season. October 28 found the active chapter and pledges at a Masquerade Hallowe'en party. Spooks, clowns and señoritas filled the hall with mystery.

The house at 2819 Stratford Avenue was bustling with activity practically every Tuesday evening. A couple of pledges set the tables, while their long-suffering sisters scrambled among the knitting, canasta-playing, and loafing actives, performing sundry duties. But after dinner, at meeting time, bedlam came to order as the Alpha Gams planned a year of memorable events. Starting with the summer convention at beautiful Natural Bridge, Virginia, they romped through re-decorating and rushing, enjoyed the pledge banquet and open house. Other events of the year were the hayride at Handle Bar Ranch, exchange dinners, old clothes parties, Valentine Dance, and the two annual formals.

The AOP's began a busy year by showing the many rushees through their newly decorated house. Especially admired was the powder bar where ambitious Applied Arts members had decorated the walls with a huge octopus and "Varga Girl" type mermaids. Pledges were honored with open houses, exchange dinners, and a hay-ride. A tea was held for the pledges' parents, and in November the annual pledge formal took place at the Summit Hills Country Club. A much looked-forward-to trip was taken by the pledges to the Miami Chapter, with whom Founder's Day was also celebrated. The Senior Banquet was the last big social event of the year, given in honor of the departing seniors.

The year 1949-50 brought a host of honors to the cardinal and straw. Jean Hauck was chosen "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi", Jane Moesta the "Dream Girl of Pi K A", and Barbie Meyers the "ATO Sweep-stakes Girl". Glenna Bertram was elected president of W.A.A., and Ruthie Cecil, the Editor of the Student Directory. The Chi O calendar was crowded with parties, open houses, and many other events. Some of the most memorable were the formals at Christmas and in the spring, and the spaghetti and wine "old clothes party"—something new which proved to be a lot of fun. You can understand why the Chi Omegas think that this was their year.

1949 left the Tridelt mantel covered with trophies and the scrapbook loaded with remembrances of a hundred good times. To see little Joyce Gottschalk presented as Band Sponsor was joy enough, but when Jody Schuck was crowned Junior Prom Queen and Mary Frances Rank made Honorary Cadet Colonel, their cup truly ran over. So when the new pledge class entered in September they could only keep up the record by winning the trophy for the most humorous float—a huge yellow lion with a deep bass voice. Not always so docile, the pledges staged a revolt one night, and had to be properly punished at a mock trial held before the Christmas party at the house.

Tuesday night always finds the house on Probasco Avenue bulging at the seams as the Deephees gather to eat, catch up on the latest news, and to plan for coming events. Along with the usual parties, dances, and other social events that mark every sorority's calendar, the Delta Phi Epsilon girls each year give special parties for a third grade class at Raschig School. Ice cream cones, cookies, and "drop the handkerchief" delight the youngsters, and even the sophisticates of the group agree that it is lots of fun to romp with them. A record of their good times was kept in the Mu chapter scrapbook, which received the highest award at the Delta Phi Epsilon national convention.

The gleaming WAA intramural trophy won last year took its place with other trophies along with the ATO sweepstakes cup won this year. A successful rush season, their festive Christmas formal, and the traditional pledge formal, all helped to complete an unforgettable year for the girls who wear the "Golden Lamp".

Soon after school started, twenty-five new, enthusiastic Theta pledges were busy working on the homecoming float. By the time this first project was completed, the actives and pledges had become great friends. Many were looking forward to the national convention which was to be held in Boston, Massachusetts, towards the end of the year, but, at the time, they were up to their knees in campus activities. November found the girls wide awake at a slumber party given for the actives by the pledges. The pledge formal was held in December along with the annual mother-daughter Christmas party.

The beginning of the rush season found the Kappa Deltas with several new improvements to their house. The conversion of the garage into a bummer room and the addition of a patio gave the girls an attractive setting for their rush parties. Their enthusiastic pledge class entered into the college life, and shortly after school started, they added the ATO cup for the "Most Attractive Brunette" to the ever-increasing collection. The Christmas party put everyone in the right frame of mind for the holidays. The skit was a big success even though it was the actives themselves who were the victims.

The Kappas moved to their new, more spacious house on the corner of Clifton and Joselin this year. There they found more room to display the trophies they acquired during the year—the Pan-Hellenic scholarship cup for the fourth year in a row, the cup for their Sigma Sigma Carnival booth, and the ATO Sweepstakes trophy won by the 1949 pledge class. Katie Crider reigned as the White Rose of Lambda Chi and Ruthie Heisel won the National Kappa Scholarship. Ruthie also was on Mortar Board, as was Betty Benzing. The Kappas adopted a child in Europe and took care of his food, clothing, and shelter. It was a profitable and enjoyable year for the Kappas.

The Phi Mu year was a well-rounded one which included ample shares of studies, work and fun. Work began during the summer when the actives donned blue jeans and came forth with original ideas for the redecorating of their house in preparation for a busy school year. Working together gave the girls a chance to discuss and plan their rush parties and other social events. The campaigns for campus candidates, Lillian Jegge, Ellie Webster, and Audrey Ludeke kept the Phi Mus occupied although they found time to maintain their high standards of scholarship. The slumber party which the actives gave the pledges found everyone wide-awake and having a wonderful time. The Pledge Formal, the Christmas party and the Active-Alum parties properly finished the year.

The Pi Lambda Sigmas from UC were mighty proud for they were sporting a new gavel awarded them by their National for being the outstanding chapter of the year. To keep up the high standards necessary to deserve and win such an award, they worked hard on campus activities and within the chapter. One of the high spots of the year was the annual Founders' Day celebration, while the big social event was the Christmas Spread. The delicious food and good time will long be remembered by all. Communion Sunday gave the girls an opportunity to gather in reverence with a fellowship breakfast following the service.

The SDT's started off a big year by moving into a long hoped-for new house. Woodside Avenue immediately became the scene of an energetic scrub, scour, shine program, as the girls worked to ready their new home for a big Housewarming weekend that featured a sorority stag, a Welcome dance, and an open house for the entire University. The "Operation Clean-up" on the house was helped considerably by a pledge class of nineteen, the largest in the chapter's history. The Sig Delts were busy along other lines, too, as they entertained at the Home for the Blind, and invited wide-eyed orphans to a Christmas party co-starring Santa Claus and ice cream.

The beginning of September marked renewed spirit in the Theta Phi's—a dream became a reality with the acquisition of the new house at 136 Wentworth Ave. Rushing was just around the corner, and between decorating and planning parties every Theta Phi had her hands full. "Around the World" was the theme chosen for the rush parties, and pledges-to-be found themselves whisked to Ireland, China, France, Africa, and Italy by merely stepping over the doorstep. The whirl didn't stop after pledge day, for they soon were busy winning trophies—"Most Beautiful Women's" float, "Prettiest Blonde" at the ATO sweepstakes, and the Sophos trophy.

Rushing was over! The Zetas sighed as they looked over their twenty new pledges and decided it was well worth the effort involved. Although it seemed like hard work, redecorating the dorm was fun. With this done they happily looked forward to another year of annual parties such as the old clothes party at a Lebanon farm and the Christmas Formal at Summit Hills when it is traditional to introduce the new pledges. Along with all the parties, the girls enjoyed the fun, competition, school work, and friendship that is part of every school year. Now that spring is here, the girls are planning to attend the National Convention at Mackinac Island.

TRIANON "And a great time was had by all!"

Ask the girls of Trianon, and they'll tell you what a wonderful experience it was being hostesses for their National Convention in the Netherland Plaza. UC's chapter was founded in 1929, and this year found smooth sailing under the guidance of Lois Bertsch, president; Helen Kisker, vice president; Helene Link and Helen Karabensch, secretaries; and Gerry Bosch, treasurer.

INTER - SORORITY HOUSE COUNCIL The Inter - Sorority House Council was established this year to determine new rules to govern the sorority houses. Previously they had followed the same rules as the girls' dormitory but the need of a separate organization was felt this year. Each sorority is represented on the council by one member; the council is supervised by Dean Johnson.

Rushing hits the fraternities like a shot in the arm as houses are cleaned from garret to poolroom, and the good frat man turns into a gleaming, beaming high pressure salesman. Last year's pledges always seem to get the brunt of the job, and find that from the other side rushing may not be so nerve-racking but is ten times more hectic. It's party all night and plan all day—picnics, dances, hay rides, skating parties, stag parties, beer parties, house parties, —meanwhile, assignments pile up for those unlucky enough to be in school.

Fraternity rushing, controlled by the Interfraternity Council, is allowed a much more liberal and lavish hand than is sorority rushing. It lasts two weeks, although prospective pledges may be invited to attend functions during the summer. When a crop of pledges have received their pins and pots, things get back to normal. The dust resettles on the trophies, books are dug out, and the active is once again the undisputed lord and master.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

ROBERT W. BISHOP

Trying to smuggle beer into the basement of a fraternity house is one way to find out all about the Inter-Fraternity Council and how it works, but there are easier ways, for they do a great deal to aid the men's groups. Rushing, that all-important part of the fraternity year, comes under their supervision and is made almost legal with the stern regulations set forth in the "little green book." Besides policing the fraternities and their activities, the council smooths the path of relations between the Greeks and the university and promotes close knit co-operation between the two. One of the big jobs of the IFC comes in the spring when it takes on the responsibility of the annual Greek Weekend and the Inter-Fraternity Dance.

"Boo" was the by-word when the Acacia spooks and goblins turned out for the big square dance at the Halloween costume party. Then came December, and amid the strains of "My Acacia Girl," actives, pledges, alums and guests danced and table-hopped at the pledge formal which marked the high point of Acacia's fall and winter season. Even though the new television set put a damper on after dinner breeze-shooting, it surely provided a swell excuse for lots of informal parties. Of course, canasta had begun to take its toll, but the casualty lists testify that pinochle and bridge are still putting up a valiant but losing battle.

Just before the cold weather set in, the AEP's and their dates gathered around a roaring fire at Jones' farm roasting hot dogs and drinking apple cider. Half the crowd entertained themselves by singing, while the others danced. A series of parties kept the crowd happy at various houses throughout the year. Dancing, laughing and all round good fellowship balanced the aches and trials of the students. The fall season's biggest social affair was the annual Thanksgiving Banquet and dance at Crestview Gardens. On this occasion the National Chapter presented Omicron D. with the scholarship plaque for rating highest on campus.

Alpha Sigma Phi fulfilled a long-standing desire this year by buying a house. Handily situated on Scioto, near the men's dorm, the new house is a big step forward for the fraternity. The boys were kept busy with paint brushes and hammers as they fixed up their new domain, but they didn't neglect their social program. Several extra-special affairs highlighted the year. Halloween found the Alpha Sigs and their dates promenading at a Masquerade Ball, while grinning jack o lanterns and dim lights added to the eerie atmosphere. At Christmas time, the Alpha Sigs welcomed Santa and his reindeer at the annual Christmas party.

You couldn't tell the gal from the greased pig at the ATO Sweepstakes, and the new pledges cheered themselves silly, but it all added up to one terrific spree that may well become a campus tradition. After the riotous afternoon with its Frog Derby, the still cheering crowd was welcomed at an open house in the evening when Vic Damone was the lucky guy who got to pick the beauty winners and award the trophies. Sports, studies, and social events kept the Alpha Tau Omega's occupied until the end of the year, when they began to make plans to be hosts for the National Convention to be held in Cincy during the summer.

Decoration was the theme this year as the first stages of a proposed master plan for the house went into effect. With the help of a five-wire pledge class, much of the house has been beautified. The boys did manage to come from behind their paint brushes long enough to make successes of the Homecoming Banquet, the pledge formal, and other gala affairs of the year. The new television set proved to be a temptation to many as did the game room, but their scholastic average remained high. The engineers finally discovered that there were women on the campus and many exchange dinners and open houses aided in cementing friendly relations.

The purple and gold shone brightly on a year crammed full of activities. The Deltas boast a variety of informal events, being most famous for their old clothes parties. The third annual inter-chapter party with the Kentucky Deltas, following the UK game, was probably the best party in years, and when the Deltas say a party is good, it's the word of experts. Pledges of Delta Tau Delta were introduced at the Pledge Formal in October. This was the first of three annual formal events, the others being held at Christmas and in the spring.

With a successful rush season behind them, the actives of Lambda Chi crowned their new pledges with green pledge pots and started them on their merry way with a whirl of tea dances, intermural sports and not-to-be-neglected studies. The newly decorated house got a good once-over on Homecoming Day when the old grads came back to add their "oh's" and "ah's" to the already unanimous approval. The winter was a busy one, but in the spring the Lambda Chi's fancies lightly turned to thoughts of the Jungle Party. "Keep hot, but play it cool", was the byword as the Phis began the new year. Dancing under the stars on the new patio highlighted the opening parties. Holiday visitors to the Phi Delt house were greeted by a sparkling array of Christmas spirit including a two-story mural and a candle-decked walk. The Pavilion Caprice played host to the Phis at their annual Pledge Dinner Dance where the new housemother was welcomed. Well represented in the big-wheel department, the Phi Delt's boast four class officers as well as five newly elected ODK's among their group. Everyone who attended the Kampus King Dance will remember the moment at which the Phi Kap nominee, Jim Kelly, broke through the paper screen and was crowned King of the campus by the Junior Prom Queen. Another feather in the Phi "Kap" was their winning booth at the Sigma Sigma Carnival, an honor that has been theirs for three successive years. During the summer of '50 Omicron chapter was host to the conclave of all chapters of the national fraternity, an honor prized all the more because this was a Holy Year and the chapter's 25th anniversary. Phi Kappa can look back on a well-spent quarter century, and forward to many more wonderful years.

When pledge formalities were over the Sig Alphas found themselves with a big list of activities to be checked off. First came the SAE—Sig Chi dance, then preparations were started for their shirt-rip-roaring Shipwreck party, which included highly decorative? wall murals. Another unique party given by Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the apple-polishing dinner for UC deans and profs. Sadness came to 2707 Clifton during the Christmas holidays, when Wally Lorenz was killed by an automobile. Wally's clean living and good sportsmanship is a loss that can not be expressed in words.

The Sammies got off to a "jailly" start with an all-out rush program based on a prison theme in "Sam" Quentin, their Clifton Avenue home. After the smoke cleared away, the actives and new pledges copped the first honors of the year by taking top prize for the most beautiful men's float in the Homecoming parade. To aid the boys in getting their studying done and in making those precious grades, the Rosenthal Library became a part of the house; and to add fun to their leisure hours, the new pine-panelled game room was put to constant use. Not to be forgotten by any of this year's members was the annual Founders' Day Weekend including the big Fall Formal.

The Sigs started the social year right by rushing and pledging thirty-eight top men. The second annual pilgrimage to the Isaac M. Jordan Tomb was held in late October. In November the Sigs started on a repeat performance of last year's intramural program by capturing the touch football crown and the following day trounced the Sigma Alpha Epsilon eleven 7-0 in the "Mud Bowl" game. Nothing need be said of the ensuing Sig-SAE stag party—it was more than a success. The White-crossers gave most unusual serenades, one of which ended with the pinned brother being doused in a sorority bath tub.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

WHAT'S SO FUNNY ABOUT THAT?

President—Russell Meyers
 Vice President—Lou Mooremeier
 Secretary—Jesse Pogue
 Comptroller—Jim Richter

Founded 1901—Richmond, Virginia
 Ohio Theta Chapter established 1949

The distinguishing mark of the "Red Door" found its way to old UC as the last local fraternity on campus, IXE, became the 99th chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Induction of members was held during the summer, with the installation dance following, an event long remembered for its spirit and significance. The first of the annual "Queen of Hearts" dances, a Sig Ep tradition, was held in February at the Union and was open to everyone on campus. Another memorable activity was the Christmas party for deserving children. All in all, the brothers up on Calhoun street were well pleased with 1949, their first year under a national banner.

Fall rush parties complete with barrels of beer and luscious steaks were only the beginning of Theta Chi good times, for their December pledge formal proved just as spirited and merry as those of the past. Migration Day found these jolly men speeding to Ohio University for a day cheering the Gilmanized Bearcats and a night of rollicking festivities. As proof that life is not all food and drink, this year their pledges won the coveted Homecoming trophy for the most humorous float. In the field of sports, the close of inter-murals found Theta Chi among the top ten. Beta Omicron Chapter, in addition, played its annual football game with the Miami brothers.

Triangles can be geometric figures, musical instruments, or three-sided love affairs, but UC has still another definition. Triangles here are Engineers who have banded together for strictly non-mathematical purposes. Since Triangle is both a social and professional fraternity, the members maintain a high scholastic standing as well as taking time out to enter campus activities and intramural sports. Between times, unusual house parties like the Farmers' party given by the pledges make life brighter for the drudging co-ops. An indoor hayride, complete with hay-loft, open fire, and popcorn, this party was the occasion for a real old fashioned hoe-down.

From that little corner of the Union they call home, the largest group of unaffiliated students on campus carry on their significant part in university life. With their usual dynamic drive the A. I. S. through activities around school has grown to be a progressive and important influence. Numerous posts of distinction have been claimed by its members during the past year. From positions at the top of the ladder in student affairs, to the smaller jobs so necessary to any successful organization, they have willingly given of their ability and spirit. Composed of both men and women, the "Independents" take an ever-increasing part in Inter-Murals and other school sponsored activities.

INTRAMURALS

As the year 1949 ended it saw a new power riding on top in the intramural race. The Betas, who had made the winning of the all-year trophy a tradition, had been dropped by the powerful Sigma Chis. Staging a strong finish, the Sigs had nosed out Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta in a close race. As this year began, it looked as though the boys from Woodside would be a tough group from which to wrest the trophy.

This year saw two sports, water basketball and indoor track, dropped from the crowded program. Under the guidance of Bill Schwarberg, the intramural program each year includes more groups vying for the coveted all-year trophy.

Touch football initiated the intramural program with games scheduled almost as soon as school began. Midst the cheers and music, Sigma Chi again showed its superiority on the gridiron as they downed the Phi Deltas in the finals to win the crown. In winning the 1949 trophy the Sigs piled up points in taking football, basketball, baseball, and bowling, while the Betas gathered their points in the smaller sports such as boxing, handball, golf, swimming, and badminton. The Phis, in staging a strong finish, captured the outdoor track trophy and both singles and doubles honors in tennis.

When two and two won't add up to five and you can't even spell "kat" right, it's scholastic fatigue, not cigarette hangover, and nothing can compare with an Autumn walk to get away from all the wear and tear.

Gillmanized

Playing its first year under Head Coach Sid Gillman, the 1949 edition of the Bearcat gridiron machine compiled a fine record, far exceeding the hopes of even the most optimistic UC followers. The 'Cats, following a slow start racked up six wins in their ten game season, climaxed by a shellacking of the Miami Redskins to annex the Mid-American Conference Championship. After the completion of the pigskin campaign, the Gillmanized gridders gained added fame by walloping Toledo University in the Glass Bowl. Enough praise cannot be given Coach Gillman and his fine staff of assistants which includes George Blackburn, Joe Madro, Paul Dietzel, Bill Schwarberg, and Jack Faulkner. To these men go the credit of starting Cincinnati on the long road to big-time football. With the return of 30 varsity men and an undefeated freshman team, the 1950 Bearcat football squad should go a long way toward putting UC on the football map.

After the last rabid fan had filed out of Nippert Stadium on Thanksgiving Day, there were only a few who would deny the fact that UC could certainly stand with the elite of inter-collegiate football circles. The year 1949-50 was a great one for the Bearcats aside from announcing to the outside world that the Red and Black was definitely on the up-grade in the football world. One man who was responsible for an undeterminable percentage of the 'Cats cohesiveness was Captain Thurman Owens. On the gridiron Owens was employed as the defensive right end in the Gillmanized two platoon system, but he was the type of guy who felt that being captain was a full-time affair, and as such was a stimulating all-around influence. The fellow who is slated to take up to the captain's reins for 1950 is defensive fullback Pete St. Clair. The likable St. Clair was the logical choice for the captaincy, since aside from his football ability he has already displayed qualities of leadership as Junior Class President for the last year. While reminiscing, the man who really stands out is Tom O'Malley, UC's great field general. Tossin' Tom won national recognition for his 1949 performance. The recipient of the Bearcat's Outstanding Player of The Year award, he led the nation in total yards gained through the air and was among the leaders in total completed passes.

In chalking up six victories during the regular season, the Bearcats statistically were close to the top in the nation. Tossin' Tom O'Malley was the leading passer with 1,617 yards, a mark second in all-time major college rankings. O'Malley also finished second in completions and in touchdown passes thrown. Gene Gibson, runback artist, ranked in the runner-up position in punt returns while Jim Kelly snared 42 passes to come in third among the nation's pass receivers.

TENNIS COURT PEP DANCE

THE CHEERING SECTION ADDED SPIRIT AND COLOR TO THE DAYLIGHT GAMES

At the first pep rally of the season, sponsored by Spirit Inc., one of the highlights was a snake dance through the campus leading to the Greek Amphitheatre for the finale. After pep talks by Sid Gilman and Thurman Owens, Sigma Sigma presented Spirit Inc. with a new Bearcat. The "Beat Miami" rally, co-sponsored by Arete and Sigma Sigma, featured an inspiring talk by former Cincinnati football star Robert Hueck. The pajama parade before the "X" game was talked about for weeks.

TUNEFUL TEAMWORK

THE "PIKES" CAME FORMAL

Opening their first season under Sid Gillman and his staff, the 'Cats ran into the pulverizing attack of the Nevada Wolfpack and were downed 41-21. The boys from the West took a quick 14-0 lead before an O'Malley pass to Howie Bellamah put Cincy back in the game. Stan Klimczak intercepted a pass, carrying to the two yard line from which Sy Stayman knotted the score. It was all Nevada the second half with the Bearcats tallying only once on a pass to Stayman. Walt Sweeney accounted for all three Cincy conversions.

In their second contest the Red and Black showed some real football in the thrilling 27-21 upset of a favored Hardin-Simmons eleven. Tom O'Malley's passing paved the way while Don Jansen and Jim Kelly cavorted in fine style. Cincy scored first but soon fell behind as H-S tallied twice in 30 seconds. An intentional safety and aerials to Ralph Staub, Jim Kelly, and Thurman Owens accounted for the remaining UC scores; but the stubborn Cowboys never gave in, driving to the Cincy one-foot line as the final gun sounded.

Too many who were too big and too fast about sums up what Cincy ran into as they fell before College of Pacific 34-7. Quarterback Eddie LeBaron of COP was a constant menace, while O'Malley's passes were the only thing that kept the 'Cats in the game. Bellamah hauled in a 50-yard aerial and galloped 25 more for the lone Cincy score with George Schuster converting.

Playing perhaps the sloppiest ball of the season, UC won its first MAC victory in an unimpressive win over Western Michigan 27-6. Cincinnati's aerial attack again told the story as passes either set up or accounted for all the UC touchdowns. Jansen, Staub, Sweeney, and Hawk entered the scoring columns as Cincy evened its win-loss record.

Once again the underdogs, the Bearcats added another upset to their string from the past as Mississippi bowed 19-0. This time it was the defensive squad that shone as they, time after time, turned back scoring threats. Bob Stratton's twisting, turning, and side-stepping accounted twice for the TD's while Gene Gibson's 80-yard run of a pass interception behind beautiful blocking and straight-arming brought the entire Homecoming crowd to its feet.

In annexing their second MAC win and third straight victory, the 'Cats blew hot and cold as they turned back Western Reserve 21-13. All UC scores came as the result of long pass plays, the first coming on an aerial to Bellamah for 68-yards in the first period. Cincy increased their lead to 21 points on TD's by Stratton and Hawk before Reserve struck back against a weakened pass defense for two scores.

McMicken fans, 4000 strong, who journeyed to Lexington saw the 33 point underdog Bearcats outplay Kentucky while dropping a close 14-7 thriller. An early UC drive that stalled on the one-yard line proved the margin of victory. The passing combination of O'Malley to Kelly was hotter than a firecracker, and Kelly's catch of the touchdown pass the play of the day. Again the Chinese Bandits, though greatly overweighed, were outstanding in their defensive play.

UC's gridders found easy going in annexing another Migration Day victory over Ohio University before a record-breaking crowd at Athens. Using the constant threat of their passing attack, the Bearcats won handily 34-13. Gibson's punt returns again took the spotlight as he returned two consecutive Bobcat punts for TD's with beautiful blocking. Jack Tracy and John Pramik stood out among the defensive squad.

Capitalizing on the Bearcats' inability to make their aerial game click, Xavier's Musketeers handed Cincy its 4th loss to the tune of 20-14. Not until they were two touchdowns behind did the 'Cats manage to tally, but a costly fumble put Cincy out one touchdown and the game. Late in the contest Bellamah skirted end for UC's second score, and when Cincy recovered an off-sides kick hopes brightened. They were soon dimmed as Xavier intercepted a pass and cut all hopes of victory.

In the game of the year the Bearcats surprised a rain-soaked Thanksgiving Day throng by downing Miami's highly-rated Redskins 27-6. Using a formerly unheralded running attack and the sterling defense of the Chinese Bandits, Cincy had little trouble with the Oxford tribe. Several times the Bandits stopped Miami drives inside the 15-yard stripe with the Redskins' only score coming on a freak interception of a pass-off. Bob Stratton added three touchdowns to his total in a game that was a great finale for the seniors who played their last game on the Cincy gridiron. Bill Anderson, Bob Fenlon, Sheldon Dunlap, Stan Klimszak, Bob Meador, John Pramik, Ray Penno, George Schuster, Lowell Storm, Don Uphoff, and Steve Yeagle all leave the Bearcat forward wall, while from the back-field, Tom O'Malley, Dick Rothfuss, and Don McMillan bid farewell.

In a post-season game Cincy added the Glass Bowl Championship to their MAC title by downing Toledo 33-13. Outstanding player of the game was Gene Gibson, who again stole the show with long touchdown runs of 76 and 83 yards on a punt return and intercepted pass.

DAD'S DAY

With each long pass, with each great run, and with each smashing tackle, another "expectant father" burst with pride and shouted, "that's MY Johnny who starred on that play!" But it was really just plain "Dad" who held the limelight as Cincy's men swept on to crush the Western Reserve Bulldogs, not only the football pops who got a coach's eye view of all that went on from the benches, but also Mr. Joe College, Sr., up in the stands. The party was on O. D. K. and other men's service groups, with the fraternities taking over to provide the post-game festivities—in most cases, banquets held in the various houses. In this way everybody chipped in to make this day a memorable one for Dad, the man behind the checkbook.

MIGRATION DAY

It was a cold Autumn Saturday and there were no classes in mind for the happy McMicken students for they were heading for Athens, Ohio on a "legal" holiday known as Migration Day. The supporters of the Ohio University team had long believed that November 5 was going to be the day of revenge for the Bobcats; they were going all out for a gridiron triumph. The Bobcat "crystal ball", however, had not caught sight of the spirited McMickenites as they journeyed by road and rail that brisk morning on their way to the scene of battle. Toward game time the town seemed to acquire more atmosphere than a Christmas tree, as Red and Black colors and eager Cincinnatians began pouring in from the South-west. A well-oiled and hard-driving Bearcat machine, a flashy marching band, plus over a thousand cheering Cincy rooters rocked the stadium to a crushing 34-13 victory. It was a well-earned decision and a fitting climax to a day packed full of thrills and excitement.

HOMECOMING

A warm, beautiful day and a packed stadium welcomed back the Bearcat squad for the Homecoming game. Before the game, fantastic floats prepared by the various Greek organizations circled the field, drawing "ohs" and "ahs" from the crowd. Because the Bearcats were playing Mississippi State, tooting steamboats equipped with revolving paddlewheels dominated the parade. After the last miniature Robert E. Lee and colorful collection of southern belles disappeared, the students settled down to watch the 'Cats exhibit their talents against Old Miss.

Halftime brought back the prize winning floats and wrung ecstatic shrieks from members of the winning organizations. Alpha Chi Omega and Sigma Alpha Mu won the trophies for the most beautiful floats, and the Delta Delta Delta lion and Theta Chi "Egg Plant" carried off the titles for the most humorous. After a smart display of high stepping by the UC band, a motley crew of band alums, though slightly out of tune and creaky in the joints, took the crowd by storm. When the Bearcats had obligingly trounced the Mississippi team 19-0, the fans went home hoarse and happy with memories to last for a long time.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

SIGMA ALPHA MU

Long before the football team appeared on the field the cheerleaders were out front getting the crowd into the spirit of the game. The noise and color that they added was the one part of football that television couldn't reproduce, and the '49-'50 squad was top-notch in both the warm sunshine of the early fall afternoons and the icy drizzle of Thanksgiving Day.

The cheerleaders packed their bags to accompany the team to the Kentucky game at Lexington and the Migration Day game with Ohio U. at Athens, and at the close of the season barely had time to catch their breath and rub linament on their aching muscles before they climbed back in their red and black uniforms to cheer on the basketball team.

TOWARD THE TAPELINE

CROSS COUNTRY

Once again the footpaths of Burnet Woods re-echoed to the tread of the stalwart band of UC cross-country men. In the dual meet run against Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware the Cincy thinclads scored a 19-39 victory as Ed Brown came from far back to capture first place. The meet with Berea College on the Burnet Woods course featured an even greater finish as Brown, Briggs, Hill Steimer and Spessard crossed the line in a five way tie for first place. Cincy won this meet 45-15. In a disappointing showing UC lost to Ohio University at Athens 27-28. A consoling factor was Bob Briggs' display of his old form as he captured first place. The Red and Black varsity placed fifth in the Mid-American Conference Meet and finished second in the Elks' Thanksgiving Day Run. The Cross Country team's record of winning all but one of the dual meets and losing that one by only one point is a tribute to the hard work put in daily practice sessions by the coach and his squad.

UC BAND

Once again the famous UC Band came through to an undefeated season after facing many of the country's top flight musical teams. Practice, conditioning, and fast moving plays were responsible for victories over such notable musical squads as Kentucky, Ohio U., Xavier, and Miami. Three additions to the band in the past year were greatly responsible for the commendable season. Head Coach Robert K. Hamilton did a great job building and directing a winning combo in his first year at the helm of the spirited Bearcat brass menagerie. John Buttleworth proved himself to be a competent field general, capably calling the plays from a "UC formation." Also heading the ground attack with John was Joyce Gottschalk, the band sponsor.

PRIS POPS UP

It was with pride that the UC students watched their band this year for the long practices that the band put in each week paid off in outstanding maneuvers. Included in their snappy half-time shows was a new type of maneuver, the story-telling maneuver. During this season the fans were brought thrilling episodes from the lives of the "Three Musketeers" at the Xavier game and a mock Kentucky Derby with the Kentucky thoroughbred being obliging enough to "drop dead" before reaching the finishing line. Needless to say this took place at the UK game, one of the out-of-town trips which the band was able to make. They could also be seen cheering the boys on at Athens, the official Migration Trip. Thanksgiving Day with the presentation of the new band sponsor, Priscilla Garrison, ended the marching season but the work of the band had just begun for now they had basketball games for which to play and a concert coming up which would require much practice. The many occasions for which the band played kept them busy, but the spirit of friendliness and cooperation which prevailed made every job seem like play and every effort, well worth while.

TAU BETA SIGMA

The girl's band honorary, Tau Beta Sigma, is kept busy throughout the year with plans for get-togethers of the band members and with ideas for fostering band spirit. Their "Hooper Rating" was also increased by serving doughnuts and cider after long rehearsals and by providing candy after the half at each football game.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI

Kappa Kappa Psi strengthened its national and local reputation as an outstanding band fraternity by carrying on a full activity program. Entertainment for visiting band members after the football games, an ice skating party, and hayrides provided some of the lighter moments, but perhaps best remembered was their caroling at Christmas.

BILL ALDERMAN

Governing the Student Union, hub of all campus activity, Union Board plays an important part in the life of every student. This select group, composed of five students and four faculty members, reigns over all phases of the Union, from the bookstore to the cafeteria, from lounge concerts to pool tournaments.

One of the big jobs of this body is the planning of the budget for the Union. Figuring out how to spread the student's fees over the vast program of this self-supported building is indeed a big task. The administrative duties of the Union are handled by Bill Alderman, capable supervisor of the organization, and Dorothy Webster, social director. "Danny", as she is known by all UCites, is a recent graduate and holder of the coveted "C" ring. She has a hand in the planning of all the Union dances which enliven many a weekend on the campus.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE OF UNION BOARD

Functioning under an imposing title, the Program Committee of Union Board operated as the coordinating body of the various Union committees. Membership was composed of the chairmen of these subordinate groups and their purpose was to decide how much money each should be allotted. This past year they started the school year with the annual "Union Week." Such favorites as the L. S. M. F. T. concerts, parties for the out-of-townners and the serial movies were the results of their brainwork. The guiding hands of the organization were chairman Dottie Mueller and secretary Anne Kendrick who saw to it that the Union calendar was published and the various sub-committees were functioning smoothly. Behind the committees was "Danny" Webster, Social Director of the Union, who did much to make this large organization of service to the U. C. students. By providing adequate entertainment to appeal to every type, the committee fulfilled its function well and could look back on a year of "jobs well done."

JUNIOR ADVISORS

AND IF YOU LIKE ENGINEERS

It's 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, time for the Junior Advisor to meet her Freshman Group. Today, the meeting will consist of announcements and a discussion pertaining to the various activities in their particular college. Many a time questions will arise in the mind of the new student; here is her opportunity to obtain the answer. The program planned by the junior girls consists of discussion groups and convocations on numerous topics—How to Study, Vigilance Trial, Campus Cues, Panel of Americans, Careers, and a Pep Rally. It is the aim and hope of every Junior Advisor that their program will make the freshmen feel immediately that they are a part of UC. This orientation group is composed of junior girls chosen on the basis of scholarship, activities, dependability, personality, and character. Their job is an important one, since they are among the first students to meet the freshman. Thus the impression that the Junior Advisor makes may be the basis for the new student's impression of UC.

During the year there developed the rumor that canasta might replace bridge at the Wig Wag meetings and this could well be for one never knows just what to expect next at these informal get-togethers of the freshman girls. Friday noon is the time set aside for the freshman women to get acquainted with their fellow classmates, and these girls can be found in the lounge of the Women's Building playing cards or indulging in conversation while keeping time with their knitting needles. This year, for the first time, sandwiches were made available at the lounge making it more convenient for the girls to eat their lunches there. Although the club is made up of freshman, they are assisted by a sophomore council which is headed by Ginny Avey. The council which is chosen from among the freshman at the end of their first year helps the club the following year to plan and organize their program.

VIGILANCE Peering around the corner looking for wayward freshman, you'll find the ever-alert members of Vigilance. You guessed the reason . . . Freshman Week of course. It is climaxed by a trial held in Wilson auditorium for all novice co-eds who fail to follow their strict rulings. Vigilance also has a card party in the spring for all bridge enthusiasts.

PHI EPSILON KAPPA Select TC students make up the roster of Phi Epsilon Kappa honorary, dedicated to advance the highest standards in the teaching profession. These physical education majors collect their thoughts over heaping bowls of Wheaties and conclude the year by presenting an award to an outstanding graduating senior.

FORENSIC GUILD

AND THEN I SWITCHED TO CALVERTS

Last year saw the birth of the Forensic Guild, an organization to develop the student's knowledge, skill, and ability in public speaking and debating. The group also hopes to prepare students to represent the University in inter-collegiate forensic competition. The Forensic Guild is divided into three councils; debate, discussion, and oratory. The debate group was active throughout the year while the other two are still in the process of preparation. Universities such as Xavier, Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Denison, Chicago, Indiana, Purdue, Iowa State, Bowling Green, and Northwestern were competition for the UC orators this year and a similar schedule will be the goal for the next year's speakers. UC has long had a need for encouragement of the art of speech and this group has provided an adequate and complete program for development in this field.

FAR AWAY FACES

All work and no play could make UC students very dull people. So, Social Board makes sure this horrible fate never happens by arranging dates and plans for all important dances, parties and social activities. At the helm of this ever-powerful group is Francis Dugan, president of the Social Board. For able assistance, Mr. Dugan is free to call upon June Ramage, vice-president, Tom Eicher, treasurer, and Eunice Engelke, corresponding secretary. These students also serve on dance committees, approve the voting of the Junior Prom, and give their O. K. on all campus affairs. In this way conflicts are avoided and important school functions and activities may receive a "closed date" making it possible for UC students to be able to attend without breaking other engagements. Checking the Social Board Calendar is a "must" for those who want to be up on the affairs happening on campus.

Are you jittery when speaking in public? Do all your sentences begin with "Um" or "And"? If so, take an example from the members of the Speakers Bureau. These students appear before various organizations throughout greater Cincinnati and talk on their favorite subjects. The material is in some cases collected from personal experience or from research. Stan Gaskins, student manager, has classed the topics under these categories, "Far-Away Places", "Conflicts with Communism", "Local Political Problems", and "Literary Discussions". The quality of these speeches is indicated by the growing demand from local organizations for more appearances. Approximately 125 speeches were given this year by members of the Speakers Bureau. This experience in speaking in public is a valuable asset to a student. Prospective members submit an outline of a speech to the bureau which judges the outline for its originality and general interest and accepts or rejects it accordingly.

Ever since a jug of kickapoo joy juice was emptied to celebrate the occasion by a group of enthusiastic students back in 1931, Sophos freshman honorary has been in active existence at U. C. Founded to further school spirit and recognize new students who have been outstanding in scholarship, activities, or athletics their initial year, this club assumes an outstanding position in university life.

Putting a spark back in campus life right after fall mid-terms is no easy task, but Sophos manages each year to ignite a veritable explosion when they announce the Annual Sophos Dance with the competition for the title of Sophos Queen. The sponsoring groups rally 'round their candidates to put on campaigns which offer everything from ghost parades to yo-yo contests and the open houses where the candidates are introduced.

The music stopped, the lights went down, and out of the Brown Jug stepped lovely Jennie Bossie, Theta Phi Alpha, Our Sophos Queen for 1949. Barely settled into the routine of college life, freshman girls were caught in a whirl of campaigning for their candidates with open houses and publicity stunts, while posters galore turned the grill into a Vogue's Gallery for weeks before the dance.

To be elected to Alpha Lambda Delta is the highest academic honor a girl can win in her freshman year at UC. Membership in this honor society, established on this campus in 1930, signifies that a girl has attained a scholastic average of at least 4.5 in either semester of her freshman year. In addition, membership entitles a girl to participate in a varied and active program during her sophomore year. The activities for this year got under way in the fall with a tea for all freshmen women. Later in the year a bake sale was held to raise money for the society's scholarship program. At the monthly meetings speakers prominent in campus or city affairs addressed the group. The climax of the year's program occurred in the spring when new members were initiated at the traditional banquet. And this year, as always, the members of Alpha Lambda Delta maintained their high purpose of stimulating the desire for study and encouraging the maintenance of high scholarship and academic leadership among freshmen women.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Half A's and half B's . . . quite an achievement for any student, but that's what it takes to become a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshmen men's honorary. Each year to every man who has maintained a 4.5 average for the year in college goes this top frosh honor. Founded at the University of Cincinnati in 1933, Phi Eta Sigma is a part of a national honorary with chapters throughout the country. It was instituted for the purpose of "promoting a higher standard of learning and to encourage scholastic achievements," but manages to find plenty of time for social activities in its program. Each spring, to acquaint freshmen men with the organization, a smoker is held for those on the deans' lists. Annually the boys get together with the members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshmen women's honorary, for a picnic and party, big events in each group's social calendar.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

The hearty participation displayed in Religious Emphasis Week, March 5-10, showed that student's thoughts go further than the usual "Bee" talk and grill clamour.

Student Religious Council again presented an inspiring program in which faculty and students of all faiths participated. Outstanding features were an interfaith council, in which Mohammedan, Islam, and Confucian teachings were of special interest; a skeptics hour on the radio; bull sessions in dorms and fraternity and sorority houses and a faculty seminar.

The Newman Club, a Catholic organization open to undergraduates, was founded at UC in 1924. This group provides for the religious, social, and cultural needs of its members, providing facilities for card-playing, dancing, and other types of recreation. For those who are interested in tennis, horse-back riding, bowling and photography, there are clubs set up within the organization. Every year the Newman Club enters the Intra-mural competition at UC, aiming for good sportsmanship as well as winning teams. Father W. Franer is the adviser of the group, helping them to plan and carry out their program for the year. The fall and spring formals, the Mardi Gras dance and the annual Tennis Club dance are events which are looked forward to and enjoyed by the members. In addition to its sports and social programs the Newman Club enables its students to form lasting friendships, and to join with others of their faith in bonds of fellowship.

HILLEL

A major project of the B'nai B'rith Counsellorship at UC is the Jewish Welfare Fund Drive which is held annually on the campus. Besides diligent campaigning and promotion for this fund, the members of Hillel enjoy monthly meetings during the school year which feature well-known speakers and movies. This active organization also sponsors many lively dances and parties for its members. Hillel received its name from a great Jewish scholar and spiritual leader who lived nearly two thousand years ago. Its objectives are to provide Jewish students with an outlet for religious, social, and cultural-educational activities. Besides the meetings held in the Union Building, the Hillel members meet every month at the Hebrew Union College Chapel for religious services on the eve of their Sabbath.

Epsilon Phi Sigma is the only organization on campus whose requirements for membership include that the petitioner be of Greek parentage or of direct Greek decent. Comparatively a newcomer to the U. C. scene these "Greek" Greeks celebrated their national's ninth anniversary and their own fifth year at Cincinnati with a National Convention held in Cincinnati this past summer. Membership is open to Day and Evening College students in the University. With their racial origin as background, this group finds many interesting and worthwhile topics to discuss and projects to promote each semester. Unique and entertaining social events highlighted the year for this group.

UNIVERSITY YWCA

Y WHO'S WHO

For the past fifty years, the university YWCA has been an active association with many campus traditions and services which have developed during this span of time. One of the most popular of these is the Apple Polishing luncheon to which a Y girl may take her favorite "prof." On the more serious side, there are weekly meetings of the various groups classified under four main areas of discussion: Social Responsibility, World Relatedness, Christian Heritage, Personal and Campus Affairs. The YWCA has attempted in all its activities to forward its purpose of setting up an organization that is characterized by a strong faith in God and a belief in the ability of the individual. Activities of the group are centered in the Y building where reading rooms, recreational facilities, and a chapel are open at all times for the use of members and their friends.

The YMCA is instrumental in starting many of the freshmen off on the right track toward a successful college career. The Freshman Camp, held the weekend before registration, provides information and valuable background to all freshmen on their approaching college life. The Y building on Calhoun Street offers students many services and conveniences. It also supports such student activities as the Yule Log Service, Freshman Club, International Club, the Marriage and Family series, and Pre-theological Club. These functions, combined with the friendly spirit and fellowship found among members of the Y, exemplify the purpose of the association in providing "a fellowship of men associated with the University united by a common loyalty to Christian principles and in a common effort to employ them in the responsibilities of life."

IS THAT REALLY YOU?

Though a soaring thermometer made a March out of the winter months, Old Jack Frost's season was marked as always with the snuffy noses, holiday hangovers, and exam blues that roll around every year at this time.

The boys seen feverishly scribbling in their little black books at most school functions aren't collecting phone numbers—they're members of Metro taking attendance. The reason for all this activity is to provide a basis for a cup given at the end of the year to the fraternity and sorority with the highest percentage of members present. The Metro cup is a welcome addition to any trophy case, and despite section changes, semester exams, and beer parties, the Greek and Independent organizations always make sure they have a goodly number representing them to bring in those precious points.

METRO CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Union Lounge looked like P.S. 33 when Metro, honorary for BMOC's, turned big brother and Santa Claus for a night. Fat kids, skinny kids, big kids, little kids—one hundred and twenty-five of them poured out of the chartered bus and Red Cross station wagons to have the time of their young lives romping in the gaily decorated room. Hidden behind a ferocious white beard was George Koch, who, passing out presents or bouncing small fry on his knee, made Santa supreme. The girls who volunteered as nursemaids had their hands full, because the entertainment featured a tumbler, and his antics inspired the whole crew to turn head over heels. Then the kids were smothered in ice cream, hamburgers, milk, cake, fruit, and candy—a true Gourmet Room repast for the cowboy crowd—and shipped, tired but happy, home to bed.

Being a Santa Claus can put a crimp in anybody's budget, so to provide that essential green stuff Metro sponsored a show in Wilson Auditorium. In stellar roles were ten winners of the L.S.M.F.T. talent contests, while Metro members were constantly popping out of the audience, running across the stage at the psychologically wrong moment, and generally conducting themselves in the best "Hellzapoppin" manner. MC of this mad but merry party was genial Jean Sheperd, epicurean disc jockey of WSAI. The entertainment was well attended, and has earned a permanent place for itself on the Metro calendar, not only for profit, but for pleasure. To Metro and to the many volunteers who helped to make the party a success, much credit is due, but they will tell you that the satisfaction of supplying a taste of Christmas fun to these youngsters was more than worth the effort.

Personalities

No account of campus life and its activities would be complete without some mention of the people who are so much a part of it. Starting out as freshmen like everyone else, these outstanding personalities went through various stages of being "Wheels," graduated to the BMOC class, and finally, when their key chains and bracelets became so heavy that it caused a permanent tilt in one direction, they could rightfully claim to be VIP's. The way these gals and guys got things done was a perpetual source of amazement to the rest of the campus, who never quite learned how to attend sixteen meetings—well, fourteen, anyway—at the same time, keep up with school work, and also even get home for dinner once in a while.

JUNE RAMAGE

A warm, ever-ready smile above a Mortar Board jacket identified June Ramage, Theta's gift to UC. During her four years June and the "Y" have become practically synonymous. Always deeply interested in religious education, this year she served as president of the campus chapter. Add to her list of activities; Social Board secretary, Women's Senate, L.A. Tribunal, Guidon, Mummers, League of Women Voters Council, Panel of Americans, Theta rush chairman, Wig Wag Council, and Vigilance—and you have some idea just how busy one girl can get.

JEAN HAUCK

One look at this Chi O, and it's evident why the Sigs chose her as their Sweetheart! Friendly, pretty, sweet, and active, Jean has packed plenty of good times and good work into her UC life. She was vice president of the Senior Class, and a member of Women's Senate, Wig Wag, Mortar Board, WSSF, Varsity Vanities, Tau Beta Sigma, the Senior Week and Junior Prom Committees, and manager of the University Band and the Intramural Teams. Pretty is as pretty does, and Jean scores on both accounts, which is a pretty nice way to be.

DOROTHY MUELLER

Activities by the gross are fine, but when a gal can add Phi Beta Kappa to her list, it really shows that she is something extra special. Mortar Board's there, of course, and Alpha Lambda Delta, Union Board, Spirit Inc., Mummies, Forty Niners, Women's Senate, the Red Cross, the Sociology Club, the YWCA, Religious Emphasis Week Committee, WGS, AIS, and the Penguin Club. AND publications; Dot-tie's worked for the News Record, the Cincinnati, the Y Handbook, the Student Directory, the Cooperative Engineer and Profile—all this, and Phi Beta, too.

CHARLES BECKER

Charlie Becker must have cut his first tooth on an adding machine, because when it comes to running the business end of an organization—Charlie's the boy. He has been business manager of the Cincinnati, business manager of the News Record, a member of the Board of Publications, president of Metro, and president of the Bus. Ad. Tribunal. Also in his credit column are the varsity Vanities, Pi Delta Epsilon, The American Marketing Club, and Phi Delta Theta. A likeable, clean-cut type, Charlie got things done with a minimum of whip-cracking.

RUTH HEMMERT VOSS

In addition to finishing up her four years with an overloaded activity list, Ruthie also got her MRS degree at UC. A Theta Phi, she kept up with Guidon, YWCA cabinet, Speaker's Bureau, Mortar Board, Woman's Athletic Association, Junior Advisers, the Panel of Americans, and the Red Cross. With her flair for journalism, Ruthie ran the gamut of Publications Row from the "Profile" to the "Student Directory" to the "News Record," and every week rushed off downtown to edit her columns of college and high school doings in one of the local papers.

SHIRLEY SCHNEIDER

Pretty, blonde Shirley graduated from Home Economics, but her interests were campus-wide. She's rapped a gavel for Sigma Delta Tau and the Home Ec. Executive Council, VP'd Student Council, Memorial Dorm, and the Home Ec. Tribunal, been Secretary of the Senior Class and Board of Publications, and treasurer of the Pan Hellenic Council. She served on Women's Senate, Junior Advisers, Varsity Vanities, WSSF, and the Cincinnatian, and her last year she traded the bright red uniform of Guidon for a Mortar Board Jacket.

IRV BEHRENDT

"The Redhead" has run the gamut of UC organizations from President of the Y.M.C.A Freshman Assembly to President of the Senior Class, and his pins are as numerous as his freckles. Sigma Sigma, Ulex, Sophos, O.D.K., Pi Delta Epsilon, etc., etc., etc., are all represented on his overloaded key chain. He was editor of the News Record—a very capable one—and a member of the L.A. Tribunal, Spirit, Inc., the Board of Publications, the '47 Vanities, and Sigma Alpha Mu, among others. Altogether, a extremely versatile young man!

RUTH HEISEL

Almost lost behind her tackle box and drawing board, this little Kappa found plenty of activities to keep her college days busy. Her membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, Delta Phi Delta, and Mortar Board indicates her ability in class, and a "few" other positions like vice-president of Guidon, Senior Editor of the Cincinnatian, Secretary-treasurer of Spirit Inc., and Pledge Captain of KKG show, however, that life was not all study for Ruthie. Her ready smile was the answer she gave to the requests for her time and energy, as she accepted jobs and did them well.

BETTY FULFORD

Read Fulf's list of activities—then consider that while she was carrying an extra-curricular schedule that would have worn out a 12 credit basket weaving major, this Mortar Board walked off with top honors in AERONAUTICAL ENGINEERING! Said list included president of Spirit, Inc., Pan Hellenic Council, and Theta Phi Alpha, V.P. of Phi Chi Epsilon, secretary of IAS and the "Cooperative Engineer," and membership in Women's Senate and the Engineering Tribunal. Talk about getting things done—her secret must have been worked out on a slide rule!

STAN COHEN

After a year of leading the Sophos crew, Stan stepped into the president's chair of the L.A. Tribunal, besides holding down top offices on Men's Senate. The News Record, Spirit, Inc., Orientation Board, the Red Cross, Sigma Alpha Mu, and ODK all made demands on his time. Public speaking must have been a hobby of Stan's—he was a member of the Red Cross Speaker's Bureau, took part in the Intramural Debating Competition, and was a representative at the National Conference of Christians and Jews at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, last summer

JANIS LLOYD

The guiding hand of Women's Senate this year, Janis also had the job of controlling Junior Advisers. Her interests seem to have run into every field of campus activity: she divided her time between the Student Council, VIC, Spirit, Inc., YWCA, the Orientation Board, Wig Wag, the Home Economics Club, Mummies, the Arts Board, Student Directory, the Red Cross, and Alpha Chi Omega—and still managed to keep her grades high enough to be tapped for Mortar Board and to be selected by Omicron Nu.

To counteract the long hours spent over a book, the recreational facilities offer an opportunity for relaxation. The tennis courts, the gym, and the football field add an informal note to the scholastic grind.

MUMMERS

To those with dramatic ability or with an interest in working behind the scenes, Mummers Guild, the dramatic organization of the University offers ample opportunity. This year the group presented four plays: "Golden Boy," "Clavigo," "Dark of the Moon," and "Two Blind Mice." Each of these was produced efficiently and well and displayed an excellent array of talent. The casts for these productions are selected from eager groups of students who invade Wilson Auditorium when the dates for try-outs are announced. Applicants for the roles read their lines with as much enthusiasm and feeling as their nervous tension permits. The final cast is chosen by F. Paul Rutledge, the faculty adviser of the group and UC's director of dramatics. Keys are awarded to members who have earned twelve or more points whether by acting or by backstage service. This system recognizes those who may not be in the spotlight, but who deserve the merit as well as those who have become well-known for their leading roles. Outstanding service is further recognized by membership in Theta Alpha Phi, the dramatics honorary.

Mummers Board carried on a full program of activities in the past year that resulted in several "firsts" in theater history. The board led the Mummers in four productions, besides contributing heavily in talent and labor to the second annual 49ers show, "This Day and Age." Another innovation was the experimental arena type play with a five person cast and an invitational audience of two hundred. Goethe's "Clavigo" was an unusual type of presentation, given in honor of the bi-centennial of the birth of this great writer. The Mummers Board also sponsored campus visits and addresses by members of the Katherine Hepburn New York company of "As You Like It," and the Thomas Mitchell company of "Death of a Salesman."

FORTY NINERS

The 49'ers organization is composed of representatives of the band, the glee club, and Mummers and was formed to produce a musical show each spring. This year the production was an original musical comedy, "This Day and Age," written especially for the 49'ers by Milt Anderson, Chuck Hopp, and Bob Portune. The plot revolved around a vaudeville troupe who find themselves stranded on a college campus, while the trials and tribulations of a song-and-dance-man, a college president, and an attractive English teacher provide the background for a number of catchy tunes and romantic ballads. Under complete student management, this show was destined to be a hit, and as the curtain went up on its premier performance, the audience could see the gratifying results of the long months of rehearsal and even longer months of writing that had gone into the effective staging of "This Day and Age."

AMERICAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION

One of the newest organizations to receive recognition of campus is the student affiliate of the American Marketing Association. The student A.M. A. is composed of pre-juniors, juniors, and seniors in Business Administration who have chosen marketing as their major field. Meetings are held monthly at which various speakers are heard who represent all phases of the profession. The members conduct surveys, hold seminars, and undertake other projects to gain experience and information in marketing problems. Upon graduation the students continue their activities by joining the professional A.M.A.

DELTA SIGMA PI

Delta Sigma Pi is an international professional fraternity for the men in Bus. Ad. and Evening Commerce School. Established for the purpose of fostering the study of business, and encouraging scholarship, the local chapter under Headmaster Wohlwender has made great progress in realizing its goal.

VARSITY RIFLE

Strictly at home on the range, the UC riflemen proved that they were big shots on campus by concluding a successful season of marksmanship. Captain Schaub led his team in meets with Xavier and other schools, and they also participated in the national intercollegiate rifle tournament.

Come Fridays and the campus scene is enlivened by the appearance of a small sized army, all in the G.I. khaki. It's corps day and the ROTC has landed. Commanded by Col. C. Higgins, the UC unit provides a wealth of valuable experience for boys in leadership and disciplinary measures which the military life incurs. For the basic student, there is class three times a week, with drill coming in the late spring. For the advanced corps, with their five hours of weekly class, there is $.90 a day, another advantage of military training. Besides the active classroom schedule, the ROTC furnishes the cadet with many other desirable aspects of college life. For the men who go in for activities there are organizations such as Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade. On the social side the corps has two formals yearly, and also many tea dances which are held in the Union lounge during the long winter months. Also providing a diversion in the regular routine is the choosing of the Honorary Cadet Colonel, an honor held by Mary Frances Rank this past year.

Guidon, National women's auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade, is an honorary for sophomore women, outstanding in scholarship, activities, and leadership. They not only add color to football games by marching with the military men at half-time, but they act as hostesses and ushers at many campus teas, open houses and meetings. The purpose of the organization is to develop leadership, citizenship, and a better interest in governmental affairs among its members.

RIFLE CLUB This past year the Rifle Club has regularly been making news with its high scores in match competition. Actually, the club members make up the roster of varsity team and hence, under the Red and Black banner, compete with some of the best collegiate and amateur teams in the U. S. Team Captain Lester Grice paced the team and acted as coach.

ARNOLD SOCIETY Although new on the campus, the Arnold Air Society has become one of the outstanding honor societies. Established for the purpose of furthering interest in the Air Force in colleges, the Society is made up of the foremost men in the Air ROTC, and the local unit is one of many throughout the country.

Climaxing the annual Greek Week celebrations, the IFC dance brought together the fraternities for a night of gaiety before returning to the political battles that reigned on the campus.

The Interfraternity Dance is one of the occasions when the greeks forget competition and combine their efforts to produce a night of dancing and friendly conversation. The Topper was the background for the gregarious greeks this year, and in the shadow of the sphinx they listened and danced to the music of Jimmy James. Entertainment, made up of talent from the various sororities and fraternities, was presented with Jack Gutjahr, PiKA, acting as MC. Sue Topmoeller, vocalist from Theta Phi, followed Sirkin and Cohen, Sammy comedy team, who supplied laughs, and Paul Ditmyer, SAE, who gave his version—with sound effects—of the old silent movies. Many of the pin bearers and their dates ended the evening informally by joining arms and voices in fraternity songs from all the groups.

As the final buzzer sounded on the 1949-50 cage season, Socco's basketballers had added another great year to the annals of Bearcat basketball. The Cats finished the season with a convincing victory over Xavier, avenging an earlier loss, in addition to winning their second straight CIT title. The records showed Cincy with 20 wins for the season against six setbacks; while in MAC competition the Red and Black sported a 10-0 record, annexing their fourth consecutive conference crown. Early season successes raised the Bearcats to a spot among the top five teams of the nation, and a triumph over highly-touted Western Kentucky put them in the number two spot. A midseason slump lowered their prestige but they regained their early form in final contests, with a victory over Long Island putting them again among basketball's elite at the season's end.

THANKS COACH

The 1950 season ended the swimming careers of Roy Stickney, Will Keller, Bill Keating, and Urb Schmidt—four of the finest swimmers ever to wear the Red and Black. Stickney is generally regarded as the greatest free-style sprinter in Cincy's history. Keller, a powerful 220-yard and 440-yard free-styler, has established records that should stand for a long time. Breast-stroker Keating and back-stroker Schmidt have consistently been among the winners during the past four years.

These stars were backed by fighting reserves who promise to develop into standouts in the years to come. With the able coaching of Tiny Pfeiffer, the Bearcats are anticipating a squad that will have more meets in the win column in 1951.

Woefully lacking in reserve strength, the 1950 Bearcat tankmen compiled only a mediocre record. The Cincy splashers racked up only two wins in seven dual meets, with most of their losses being suffered at the hands of the country's top swimming squads.

Cincinnati opened its season with an easy win over the University of Louisville. Two potent Big Ten opponents, Indiana and Illinois, proved all too powerful for the 'Cat mermen in the second and third dual meets of the year. The Cincy-Bowling Green meet, next on the program, was a thriller down to the last event, which the BeeGees grabbed to emerge the winners.

Traveling to Detroit, the Bearcats won their second victory of the campaign over the Detroit U. swimmers, and then dropped a close meet to the Tartans of Wayne University. Coach "Tiny" Pfiefer's crew suffered their worst drubbing of the year in their last dual meet. The Central Collegiates at Michigan State saw the 'Cats garner a fourth place tie to finish their season.

Section Change

Section Change is a red-letter-day in the life of a Co-op. Although half of his life is spent struggling through structures, technical mechanics, and chemistry, the co-op keeps one eye on the calendar, waiting for the happy day at the end of the dreaded seventh week. Then he shakes off his scholastic responsibilities and lets himself go with wild abandon in a manner equalled but not surpassed by a New Year's celebration. Being gregarious, he gathers with his departmental clansmen to ring the new section in. Best of all is the section change that initiates a vacation, bringing freedom from both the strain of school and the cares of commerce. Section change is also a moment of deep meditation for the co-op of the incoming section; a time when this stable pillar of industry must leave with regret his job, screw up his courage, and return from his peaceful life as a community asset to the jet-like pace of UC's scholastic course.

Since its introduction to UC by the late Dean Herman Schnieder almost a half century ago, the co-operative system of education has grown to wide renown in industrial as well as educational circles. Just as great as the system's prominence is the variety of positions held by the students of the three co-op colleges. Contrast seems to be the keynote, with co-op jobs varying from mural painter to house detective, from foundry hand to jewelry designer, and from traffic engineer to soap analyst. Indeed, co-ops have become recognized in every field of business and industry.

CO-EP CLUB The Co-Ep Club prides itself on having as members all women of the Colleges of Engineering and Business Administration. The Club functions as a coordinating body for these girls. Banquets are held in the fall for the incoming freshmen and again in spring for the graduating seniors. Actually the year's work begins in summer when the new girls are introduced to the rigors of a Co-op's life. The rest of the year is taken up with a scholarship fund campaign and Co-op Day work.

JUNIOR PROM

Weeks of work and planning, both by the junior class officers and the campus sororities, precede the Junior Prom. Tops on the winter social calendar and the biggest dance of the year, the Junior Prom with its queen is one of the oldest traditions at UC. Ray Anthony and his orchestra furnished the music in the Egyptian atmosphere of the Topper Club setting. The high spot of the evening was the eagerly awaited announcement of the queen. Following the introduction of the queen's court by Pete St. Clair, junior class president, a mysterious, regally-draped sedan chair made an appearance at the bandstand. The drapes were parted and out stepped UC's 1950 Prom Queen, pretty Nancy Todd of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her court included Marg Hewitt of Chi Omega, Jeanne Schmalz of Theta Phi Alpha, Helen Spies of Alpha Chi Omega, and Jeanne Kattus of Alpha Delta Pi.

WELL ROUNDED EVENING

THE "ARTY" SET

When bluebook blues and classroom gloom start hanging heavy over your aching head, the Arts Board can supply a relaxing remedy. It is subdivided into smaller groups, each with its own specific interest—music, photography, creative arts, drama, and literature, each of which has its own executive organization. The music group has a lounge in the Union with a new record player and a fine collection of classical records. The photography and creative arts devotees have workshops where the latter had fun this year designing drapery fabrics. The dramatic group write their own scripts and present skits, all on a small scale, of course, but still the source of much pleasure to the stage-struck. With its varied program, the Arts Board well accomplishes its aim to provide an outlet for student's interest in the finer pastimes.

PI DELTA EPSILON

Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary for collegiate journalists, was founded for the purpose of elevating journalism, fostering the mutual welfare of student publications, and recognizing the efforts of student writers. The local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon first received its charter in May, 1925. In February of 1950 the chapter was reactivated with the national president and secretary presiding at the ceremonies. Fourteen students and one faculty member who are prominent on campus publications were initiated to form the nucleus group. The annual publications banquet is one of the means employed by the UC chapter to further cooperation and understanding between the major campus publications. At this dinner organization awards are presented and the new initiates to Pi Delta Epsilon are announced. At the regular meetings of the honorary, guest speakers, who are staff members of the public press in the Cincinnati area, discuss topics of journalistic interest.

GLEE CLUB

MUSIC — MUSIC — MUSIC!

What would college be like without music? The Glee Club offers to talented vocalists the opportunity of presenting semi-classical and classical music to the campus and part of the outside world. Under the new director, Mr. Willis W. Beckett, the members began the year with try-outs and rehearsals. The first semester was filled with concerts for various local organizations and conventions. The Glee Club took an active part in the traditional Christmas Convocation for all of the campus. They also sang carols heard across the nation over the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Almost at the end of the second semester of two rehearsals weekly, the Glee Club presented their annual Spring Concert at Emery Auditorium. The broad semicircle of tuxedos and black and white formals looked as good as their music sounded.

"You Are My Sunshine" would hardly be found on a Glee Club program at a concert, but it had its place at the square dance held in January for all members. Old clothes and old-fashioned square dances were in order. The Glee Club also found time for picnics during the warm weather, but the most popular social events of the year were the "prayer" meetings given after each concert. Good beer and good singing are a combination for perfect harmony.

While everyone else wrote term papers or caught up on that outside reading assignment over the spring vacation, the Glee Club went on a concert tour as far as Washington, D. C. After all night poker sessions in their crowded coaches, the members somehow managed to pile out for every one-night stand and give fine performances—and to do plenty of sight-seeing and partying on the side.

WILLIS BECKETT

LET'S TRY IT AGAIN

BEAUX ARTS BALL

Jean La Fitte, gentleman smuggler of New Orleans and Grand Isle, played host to a gay band of revelers at his camp on "Bayou Alms" as the students of the College of Applied Arts met for their annual Beaux Arts Ball. 'Cajuns and creoles rubbed elbows with French nobility; pirates and U. S. troops forgot their differences for the night, and the sound of laughter and singing lasted into the early morning hours.

Prizes were awarded to the creators of the most authentic, most beautiful, most unusual, and most humorous costumes. Brain-racking and research turned up ideas that would have made Salvadore D. himself blink twice, or produced replicas of many a famous and unscrupulous character. Cannons and treasure chests came to life to vie with buccaneers and colored mammies for top honors, and the judges found the task of choosing between so many colorful and ingenious costumes a difficult one.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

By its strength and activities the Alumni Association has shown that college is much more than just a four year proposition. Their interests in the well-being of the University reaches to every activity of our campus. This progressive group sponsors the Interfraternity Sing, the Homecoming Day, the athletic program, as well as giving support to the ever increasing number of student organizations. The work of this organization is under the direction of Mr. John W. Hargrave, president of the association who, with the aid of the hard-working members of his many committees, guides the financial assistance and moral support given to the undergraduates

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

This year of WAA activities was brought to a climax with their traditional banquet. This was the day of honor for those who had been outstanding in various types of sports. The awards presented ranged from membership to the blazer and key. Under the leadership of Glenna Bertram, president, and Rita Zwick, vice-president, WAA organized top teams to represent UC both on campus and against other schools. The water pageant given by Penguin Club was an event worth remembering, as was the Dance Club concert, the national bowling meet, the rollicking barn dances and the Sports stampede (alias the annual Play Day). The intramural program which the group sponsors for the Greek and Independent groups on campus is entered into with a spirit of fun and friendly rivalry that does much to further the interest of UCites in athletic activities. This group also gives the highest award possible for a senior girl, the "C" ring which is presented each year on Honor Day.

The long hours of practice are indeed repaid when a girl is chosen to be a member of the WAA varsity basketball team. The group competes against other college teams and some of the games are played out of the city. The WAA also sponsors intramural basketball for sorority girls.

The Dance Club of the University is an accomplished group of interpreters who present a recital of the year's work in the spring. Try-outs are held in the fall for membership. This year the club in conjunction with Arete sponsored Martha Graham and Company, who presented four modern dances Miss Graham had composed.

The Woman's Athletic Association offers a variety in its program for sororities, bowling being one of the favorite sports. Many of the girls have had no previous experience, but the thrill of seeing that shining black ball rolling down the alley makes them love the game.

ARETE

Physical and Health Education majors are very lucky in having their own Arete bummering room in the Women's Building. When these girls can't be found around campus a peek into their own private room might reveal their whereabouts. They can be found sipping cokes there and incidentally planning their activities, such as the hockey and basketball games which were scheduled with Phi Epsilon Kappa, the Physical Education honorary for men. Not only do their activities include sports, but they are also kept busy all year with various other projects. Arete and Sigma Sigma work together to sponsor the Thanksgiving Convocation, an annual event. Every year at Christmas-time the girls get together for caroling, doing a little apple polishing on the side by singing for the physical education faculty. One of the most outstanding accomplishments of Arete this year, with the help of the alumni, was the sponsorship of Martha Graham in a program of modern dancing. The money that was earned went toward their scholarship fund.

UC SAILING CLUB

KEEP AN EVEN KEEL

Although this club is a comparatively new organization on campus, the UC sailors had a busy schedule this year. Inter-collegiate regattas river-shore parties, and weekend sailing on the Ohio River helped fill the agenda. In the fall, the club played host to the Ohio State, Dennison, and Miami sailing clubs. A series of races in Dior Dhow Dingies lasted two days, and a scrub bucket filled with beer was presented to the Ohio State sailors who totaled the most points. The event was climaxed when one dingie turned over, and the skipper and crew received a dipping in the beautiful Ohio. Dean Joseph Holliday, faculty adviser of the club, also took part in the sailing, in a Lightning. One party which was especially enjoyed was the Patrick Henry party, at which the members used their own talents for entertaining. icy weather slowed down activities somewhat in January and February, but the sailors used this season to hold a banquet at the Patio to honor the senior members. March found the club sailing again with the usual zest of the sea-farers.

The Kampus King dance was based on the assumption that turnabout is fair play. For that one night, the boys sat back while the girls bustled about asking for the dates, buying the tickets, and arranging the transportation. The pampered males were even given corsages—vegetable corsages that were edible as well as decorative. But to the girls went the privilege of voting for the Kampus King, UC man of distinction. Of the candidates nominated by the fraternities and independent organizations, Jim Kelly, Phi Kappa and football star, was elected and crowned by the Junior Prom Queen. Other members of the royal court were Orv Retzch, Delta Tau Delta, Orié Spegal, Theta Chi, Charlie Becker, Phi Delta Theta, and Jack Gutjahr, Pi Kappa Alpha. The Kampus King dance gave us a chance to see how the other half lives, and bids fair to become a UC tradition. Held in the Great Hall of the Union on April 2nd, it was jointly sponsored by the Pan-Hellenic and Woman's Group System councils. Proceeds were given to the World Student Service Fund.

BASEBALL The 1949 Bearcat baseball squad opened their campaign against the University of Louisville with an unimpressive 12-3 loss to the Colonels. Of the nineteen game schedule, the diamond men were able to mark only five games in the victory column. Two contests were called because of rain, and the rest were defeats. The 'Cats scored victories over Western Reserve, 2-0, Miami, 4-3, Louisville, 6-0, Ohio University, 11-8, and St. Xavier, 10-7.

"Tip" Jockers, star second baseman for the 'Cats, led the team in hitting with a .320 average. Hans Heine, star hurler, was credited with three wins and three losses during the season. Coach Hank Zureick is counting on Heine for help in making '50 a better season for the baseball team.

TRACK One win out of four dual meets was the record of the 1949 Bearcat Harriers. This victory was the 90½-31½ drubbing of Xavier University. In two triangular meets Cincinnati placed second, scoring ahead of Otterbien and behind Ohio Wesleyan in the first, and ahead of Butler and behind Western Michigan in the second. In the Mid-American Conference meet the 'Cats placed fourth with 30¾ points.

Most of the team will be back in '50. Bill Lasher, 1949 captain, will return to run the 440 and the 220 yard dash. Don Fisher will also return to heave the shot put. Seventeen letters were awarded to outstanding men, which was the largest number given in one year to any UC harrier team. Prospects look good for the coming season.

TENNIS

The tennis picture at the University of Cincinnati received a facelifting at the beginning of the 1948-49 season when it acquired the expert services of Coach George Menefee, marking the first entrance of a full time net mentor. The results certainly did prove his value. The Bearcat netters compiled a total of 10 wins, four losses and a Mid American Conference Championship at Kalamazoo, Michigan. Menefee's white clads got off to a shaky start when they met the elite of intercollegiate tennis circles in their initial eastern swing, but then bounced back from the four defeats to register six straight wins and eventually four more.

DOUBLE - ACTION

Directing the varsity portion of Red and Black tennis during the past campaign was little but dynamic Captain Charley Thomas. Rounding out the picture of varsity lettermen were Norm Appel, Bob Kiefer, Bill Anderson, Pete Conway, Phil Yeager, Bill Crandall and Mort Hoppenfeld. Thomas was ranked 33rd nationally in men's singles and 8th in the Western Lawn Tennis Association while Appel ranked 13th in the Western Division. In the MAC tournament the two advanced to the singles finals in straight sets, Thomas finally winning, while the two teamed to capture the MAC doubles.

GOLF

Cincy's varsity golfers teed off the season with high hopes of bettering last year's record of eight wins and eight losses. Several lettermen returned to form a nucleus for Coach George Smith's 1950 squad. The Red and Black got off to a slow start in '49, splitting their opening matches with the University of Kentucky and Xavier University, and dropping a match to Wayne before getting on the winner's train. Ohio U. and Xavier fell to the 'Cats in their first victories. The Ohio Inter-collegiate Tourney found U.C.'s linkmen ninth in a lineup of 15 schools while they finished fourth in the MAC race. Sparking the squad were Bob Dixon, Dick Smith, Tom Francis, Elmer Koehlke, Art Theler, and Bill McIntosh, with Smith and Dixon sharing medalist honors.

FENCING

Fencing, although rated as one of the minor sports at UC, is one in which Cincy meets real "bigtime" competition. Ohio State University, Western Conference champs last year, and Wayne University, Michigan's best, as well as the University of Illinois, Notre Dame, and the University of Kentucky are among the teams that appeared on the Bearcat schedule this year. Captain Herb Reisenfeld, a three-year letterman and an Olympic prospect, along with lettermen Mike Cunningham and Lew Stoll formed the nucleus of this year's squad. Generally inexperienced, but ably coached by Ross Saigh, the group faced a big job as the season got underway. Foil, epee, and sabre were yielded with surprising speed and dexterity as the 'Cats fought for their prestige in the "sport of gentlemen."

Elections

ANY PREDICTIONS?

The "Veep" wasn't on the ballot of the University-wide elections this year; neither was Harry, but even without them, the pollsters took it on the chin. The battle was even livelier than usual this year, with the introduction of the Progress Party. Reconstruction was the theme of most candidates; reconstruct the bookstore line, the grill, or the parking lots. A Board of Minimums was proposed. Powers regulating minimum of A's per student, 90% limit of meat in Grill chili, etc., were to be introduced. The usual number of signs were put up from the Union to Ship's, then another load were raised urging all eligible to vote. A halt to the proceedings had to be called after the door to the Grill (campaign headquarters) was completely obscured. A few days after Section I returned, the results were tallied and a new crew of victorious campus politicians were introduced to the reins of government and a slightly battle-scarred student body.

Richard
Indsen

Though it wasn't until Class Day that the election results were announced, it came as no surprise to anyone that such good men as Irv Berendt, Pete St. Clair, and Bob Davis should be chosen to head their classes.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The most influential group on campus is the Student Council. The decisions of the sixteen student representatives who comprise the group, in keeping with general University policies, control all phases of student activities which come under their jurisdiction. The Council is separated into three subcommittees which plan and carry out the projects of the organization. Handling the inevitable complaints is the Grievance Committee, while the group for Constitutions takes care of the approval of new organizations or recognition of changes in old ones. The Committee of the Budget has a man-sized job in balancing the books of the Activity Fund and allotting amounts to deserving groups. In addition, the Council as a body places the approving stamp on all the campus publication appointments. One of their lesser known duties is supervising university-wide elections each spring, to determine their successors.

ROW 2—Bishop, R. W., Tucker, D., Thompson, R., Merritt, J., Beckner, D., Eicher, T., Johnson, L.

THE HIGH COMMAND

Prexy Bill Nester raps his gavel and representatives from all colleges come to order for another session of the reigning body of Cincy. The activity point system, appointments to various boards and committees, and grievances of the students are just a few of the items that appear on the agenda of student council. Assisting Bill in the leadership of the group is vice-president Shirley Schneider, while the business of each meeting keeps secretary Ann Ledbetter's pencil flying. Budgets, expenditures, and appropriations keep dollar signs flitting before treasurer Bob Schwindt, who also heads the money-doing budget committee. Every meeting is sure to produce some situation affecting this important part of the council. When more experienced guidance is needed, the group calls on its two advisers, Dean Johnson and Dean Bishop, who aid them in their work.

WOMEN'S SENATE

Women's Senate, a group of representatives chosen from various campus activities, is a coordinating body of the women's activities on our campus.

In the fall, before school actually started, the Senate gave a tea for all incoming freshmen girls. Some of the outstanding student women were introduced along with the Dean of Women and other members of the faculty who deal mainly with the problems of the feminine students. This tea helped in making the freshmen girls feel at home on U. C.'s campus.

Women's Senate joined with Men's Senate in planning for Migration Day. Each year a scholarship is provided by the senate, the funds for which are raised by the operating of a Used Book Store. Last year the chairman and co-chairman of the Senate went to Arizona for a National Convention of Women's Senates of many colleges.

Annual elections are held each spring; the officers are chosen from each class.

MEN'S SENATE

On UC's Capitol Hill this year the Student Senators with their shiny black suits and string ties had their heads together to plan for the good of all student citizens. The Freshman Orientation series was well attended, especially the lecture on "How to Study," which was packed with seniors making an eleventh hour attempt. The next Senate project was the Migration Day Train to Ohio University, an outing always so successful that they are now planning to sponsor a Migration Day during the basketball season. The chartered buses which carried the eager but carless rooters to the Garden games were another project of this august body. Answering the appeals of the WSSF and HELP programs and conducting an investigation (in the best Senate manner) into election procedures and democratic selectivity in honoraries, the Chambermen rounded out a year which they believe was beneficial to all UC citizens.

THE MORTAR BOARD

Chanting and hooded black figures? It must be March 13th again, when Mystic Thirteen Chapter of Mortar Board taps the outstanding junior women, giving them the biggest thrill of their college careers. They must have fulfilled the three qualifications for membership of this national honor society: service, scholarship and leadership. This fall found these BWOC's busy taking orders for their annual Donut Day Sale, trimming the goal posts for the UC football games, and taking baskets to the needy at Christmas. Added to their projects this year was a style show for freshmen women, the proceeds of which were applied to their scholarship funds. Their time in the spring, however, will be taken by plans for a Smarty Party in honor of all Dean's List students, a booth at the Sigma Sigma Carnival, and a Leadership Conference. Climaxing the long list of contributions and achievements of these outstanding upperclass women, will be the Honors Day Convocation, sponsored in conjunction with ODK.

ROW 3—Warner, H., Phillips, D., Volman, J., Lloyd, J., Ramage, J., Schneider, S., Greene, H. S.

Anyone who can claim membership in ODK can automatically also place BMOC after his name. For in this national honor society for junior and senior men are found the outstanding leaders in all phases of campus life. The membership also includes distinguished members of the faculty. This year twenty-five men, the largest class in the history of the circle, were chosen for character and distinction in scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications, or speech, music, and dramatic art. The work of ODK this year included a leadership conference, a trophy to the outstanding male athlete, the scholarship fund, and co-sponsorship of the Honor Day convocation. Money for these and other projects was raised in a whirlwind campaign in the football season, when every UC student found himself energetically and irresistibly urged to buy a bright tag that defiantly declared "Beat the Opponent."

"Sigma, Sigma. . .Skull and Bones. . ." is the familiar chant that marks the summoning of more outstanding men into Sigma Sigma. Founded in 1898, Sigma Sigma is a local society organized to further the interests of the University. Members of this upper-class honorary are chosen on the basis of their campus activities as well as an outstanding personality and service to the Alma Mater. Chief among their yearly projects is the sponsoring of the traditional Sigma Sigma Carnival. Meeting in Heuck Hall, the stein-decorated sanctum of the group, the members have also initiated many other projects benefiting the school. The Bearcat costume seen romping around at Cincy games is a gift of Sigma Sigma. Another annual event of this group is the picking of "Mr. Bearcat," the outstanding male on campus for the year. To be selected by this honorary is indeed indicative that a student is of the cream of the upper class.

UP ON THE FERRIS WHEEL

SIGMA SIGMA CARNIVAL

Cups! Cups! And more cups! The Greeks will do anything for a cup! The entire day before the carnival they could be seen feverishly running around putting the final touches on their booths. The PiKA's were touching up the giant nose on the clown-like booth which brought them the trophy in the Most Carnival-Like class. Down the midway a little way, the SAE's could be seen hoisting their over-sized duck to the roof of their booth, another prize winner, this time for the Most Money Taken In. The girls also were making use of the manpower available for their booth's were being whipped into shape in record time. The Kappas were getting a good supply of angel-food cakes into their booth, the Kappa Deltas were practicing their salesmanship which paid off to bring them the trophy for which won the Most Attractive cup later in the evening. Further down the long line of booths the Kappa Deltas were practicing their salesmanship which paid off to bring them the trophy for the Most Money Taken In. Getting welcome results also was the Trianon booth for these "Fore-tellers of the Future" had the booth judged to be the Most Carnival-like.

"Step right up. . . See the one and only. . . Just the small fee of. . ." With vacation just around the corner, the stage was set for the "biggest show on campus," the Sigma Sigma Carnival. Complete with ferris wheel, side show, cotton candy, and much more, the Carnival stepped into the limelight at UC for the night. The briskness of the spring evening magnified the ringing of the barkers' voices and intensified the carnival spirit as thousands trod the midway taking in the sights. The entire week before, Nippert stadium had been the scene of feverish activity as organizations had been busily at work putting finishing touches on their booths, each with the confidence that theirs would be a winner. Finally, the big moment arrived and the Carnival began its one night stand. Goldfish races, Giant Champagne Bottles, and Mystic Fortune Tellers all became the centers of attention as the crowds wandered about, everyone trying to see all the unusual booths. And when finally tickets (and cash) ran low, they still lingered, hoping for one of the many door prizes. The Sigma Sigma members had done a big job in putting on the Carnival and had done it well. They could be proud of the event, which provided an opportunity for the Greek organizations to cooperate as well as to compete in this affair given for the entire school.

THE MIDWAY

Making their way boldly through the crowd were the "Persian Slave Traders," carried in sedan chairs by their slaves, or so it appeared; but on further investigation it was discovered that they were really Phi Deltis who were putting in a plug for their booth, the Persian Mart. The Phis were not included in the competition for the cups. They set up and operated their booth throughout the evening with the understanding that they were not competing, adding an act to the Carnival that was welcomed by all. The Mart itself became the main attraction of the evening as capacity crowds packed the tent at every performance. Following a tour of the midway, most of the throng turned next to the giant ferris wheel to rest or at least be able to sit down. With cotton candy in hand they ascended to the heights. From the top they could enjoy the colorful picture which the Carnival presented from the gently swaying car. Meanwhile down below the crowds were still enjoying the Alpha Chis' tasty Champagne or some of the Kappa Deltis' Mint Juleps . . . ah, what exquisite drinks . . . and with a piece of the angel food cake that the Kappas were raffling off. . . what could be better? Refreshments like this helped to alleviate the dizziness caused by the altitude of the ferris wheel, (or to help it, as the case may have been). By the end of the ride, it was time to take one more chance on the SAE duck booth and so the evening went..

3.2% AGREED ON . . .

Believe it or not, the boys of Ulex do not spend their whole year dreaming up ideas for their pictures. Horseplay and infamous parties are combined with service to the campus by this local tong. Typical of its projects was the treat given to 60 boys and girls from the General Protestant Orphans Home who were guests at the Western Reserve football game. At the Xavier basketball game Ulex awarded its annual trophy to the outstanding cage player of the year. Nineteen new members were selected by Ulex in its fall and spring pledging. After a colorful initiation, with the grill orations and usual hazing, Grand Dragon Tom Kinder welcomed them into the fold with the memorable (or else, to any pledge) Ulex creed. . . .

"Out of the evanescent mists of the empyrean, wafted on the billowy zephyrs, leaping the impermeable abyss to dash itself against the fairy softness, came the murmur, 'A ha! What has thou there?' And incommunically mournful sighed the answer 'Razberrahs.' And so limited against the incarnadined nebulae, they faded and were gone, austere permeated with the myrrhy fragrance-aspiring ever, fading never. Such was our mission."

To the men of Ulex, Springtime is practically synonymous with the annual Boatride. This affair has become one of the most popular events of the year's social activities, and this year was no exception. The big night arrived, and there at the dock of Port Cincinnati lay the AVALON, one of the Ohio's most colorful steamers. By nine, the seafaring men and women of UC were all aboard and ready to shove off; a shrill blast of the whistle and the AVALON was soon churning the murky waters of the "Old Ohio."

After the AVALON had finally maneuvered itself out into the river with much difficulty, another Ulex boatride was underway. The lovers of the sea lined the deck railings watching the lights of the city drift by, while on the top deck some of the more rugged individuals preferred to brave the Arctic wind and gaze fondly at the stars. Activity abounded throughout the ship; inside, the UC crew, decked out in the traditional "skipper-hats," danced gaily, and even the boiler room became the scene of much festivity.

Those grizzly looking members of the crowd were Contestants in the main event of the evening, the beard-growing contest. Some looked like bushy Bolsheviks, others like half-shaven mongrels, and all of them like social misfits. The grand prize went to SAE Lou Morelli. Too soon the boat was docking, too soon the fun ended. And as the moon set softly in western sky, another Boatride became a pleasant memory.

Publications

From "Student Directory" to "Profile" the offices along Publications Row are uniformly alike in containing clacking typewriters, mountains of crumpled yellow paper, coke bottles, and editors shrieking "Deadline!"

The Board of Publications is the governing body over all student publications. Their principal duty is to keep a heavy guard over the cash box used for financing these publications, but they also appoint the Editors and Business Managers of these literary organizations for the following year. Consulting together on questions of editorial and general policy which arise from time to time and considering budgets and allotments are the order of the day at their monthly meetings. The members of the Board are the Editors and Business Managers of the major campus publications with two members of Student Council who act as Chairman and Secretary. Together with advisers on finance and technical matters chosen from the faculty, this group provides a stable foundation for our campus publications.

NEWS RECORD

The maintenance men put in double duty every Monday evening (except during scheduled exam periods) when they sweep out exhausted but pleased N-R editor and crew after meeting that ever-present deadline again. Combining brains, ambition and elbow grease (mostly elbow grease), these prospective Journalists turn out one of the top collegiate publications in the country. From the moment the assignments are passed out with such reckless abandon, to the moment when the staff gaze on the resulting product, time is at a premium. But they all admit they would be glad to "go through it all again". . . so they do. From the background comes the faint voice of the Editor. . . and only nineteen more issues to go."

CINCINNATIAN

If you are tidy, industrious, quiet, and sane—stay away from the Cincinnati office! Standard procedure for the light-hearted staff is to goof off for weeks; then, with paste and paper flying, race to meet the deadline. Usually the crisis arrives during exam week! It means late hours and long hours pushing pencils and pounding Underwoods to put the book together, but when the headaches are over, comes the bliss of seeing the finished book—it's all our baby!

PROFILE

At the end of the line along Publications Row is the infamous home of the UC literati, the "Profile." It is here that aspiring young Hemingways find an outlet for their literary talents. Founded as a periodical to publish the more serious works of the students, it is put out four times a year. In addition to short stories, the magazine often carries articles about current campus affairs. One regular feature is a "Profile" or biographical sketch of a UC notable, accompanied by an excellent full page photograph, and designed to acquaint little spokes with the activities and accomplishments of Big Wheels. Also in its pages the workings of student government are explained, and any injustices or current problems are aired before the public. And tucked away beneath its covers are cartoons and little gems of humor, comic relief for the light-minded. Editor Jim Costello and his hard working staff spent many a weary Saturday afternoon polishing and blue-penciling, and always managed to turn out a magazine that contained a nice balance of information, creative art, and humor.

COOPERATIVE ENGINEER

Under the guidance of Alex Batscha, editor, the Co-operative Engineer is published four times yearly for the students in the College of Engineering. Copy in this popular magazine is of a wide variety, ranging from introduction of new products to news of grads and faculty, with humorous articles on "Co-efficients of Lipstick Distribution" and equations for determining the scores of football games gaining wide recognition. Aiding the editor in keeping this publication up to par is Mike Cunningham, managing editor. Editorial secretary is Dottie Mueller, whose home has always been a favorite gathering spot for the staff, while Ed Moore serves in the capacity of business manager.

Social life is well mixed in with work on the Co-op Engineer. Saturday afternoon proof-reading is typical of the "have fun while you work" sessions of the staff. Frequent parties and picnics keep the workers happy during the year while a final banquet climaxes their work.

GAD, IT'S OVER

STUDENT DIRECTORY

A haven for those with a mind for figures, phone numbers, that is, is the little room all the way at the end of publications row, the Student Directory. It is here that the campus' best seller, the Directory is written and published. This year, under the able leadership of Ruth Cecil, the Directory rose to new heights. With an imposing tricolored cover, and the inclusion of school songs and cheers, it was received gratefully by the thousands of students whose "little black books" it supplemented. Burning much midnight oil in an effort to meet the mid-December deadline, the staff found the listing of 8,000 names, phone numbers, and addresses a real task. Then came the happy day when the "Zeuses, Zircons, and Zwischthichoffs" were finally included and the doors closed for another year. But all was not over. Following the pre-Christmas, maniacal rush for "first editions," Inky Shiller, distribution manager, spent many a January noon-hour passing out copies to late comers. As it is the most widely used book on campus, the staff introduced many innovations this year to make this year's book the best possible.

With the end of May came the festivities of Senior Week and the end of the term; days saddened by the departure of the graduates but brightened by the prospect (for some at least) of a long summer vacation.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

INTERFRATERNITY SING

CONGRATULATIONS, JOHN

Sponsored by the UC Alumni Association and the Interfraternity Council, the Sing provides a fitting climax to the Greek school year. Held in the evening in the outdoor amphitheater, it is always a beautiful, impressive, and usually harmonious occasion. Last year for the first time, the sing was undertaken without the fairer sex's participation. Also omitted were the semi-finals which in previous years had been held in Wilson Auditorium the week before the finals. Nine fraternities were on hand to try for the trophy, each singing two songs of their own choosing. Behind their seemingly effortless performances were many, many hours of preparation. From the tenors, bassos, baritones, monotones, and the tone deaf, each song leader somehow shaped up a glee club—maybe not in the Fred Waring class, but at least full of enthusiasm.

BETA THETA PI

PHI DELTA THETA

It was a proud and happy SAE chapter that walked away victorious from the 1949 Sing, for the second year in a row. Under the direction of John Ziegler, they had given a moving rendition of two negro spirituals. To the Betas and the Phi Delts went the consolation of second and third place honors, but everyone present agreed that all participants had done a fine job.

SENIOR PROM

High spot of Senior Week was the the Senior Prom. With theses in or comprehensives finished, the seniors were free to relax before donning caps and gowns for graduation. Castle Farm was the scene of the revelry as seniors and underclassmen alike danced to the music of Jimmy James and his orchestra. During the intermission members of 49er's provided the entertainment, while Metro awarded its all-year attendance trophies to SAE and SDT. New members were also summoned and introduced. As the music died out and the seniors wended their ways home, all agreed the evening would be a topic of reminiscence for years to come.

IVY DAY

A long-standing tradition at the University of Cincinnati is the beautiful and impressive Ivy chain procession. Thirty out-standing Junior girls are given the honor of carrying the Ivy Chain in this memorable ceremony. Led by the president and vice-president of the Senior class, the graduates-to-be, in caps and gowns, wend their way from the Administration Building to the Amphitheater. Here the Senior Class Will and Prophecy are read, and secret ambitions and hopes are set down for posterity. The Senior Class president plants a small green slip of ivy beside the other sprouting ivy that has remained from the years before, reminding the graduates they are about to see the dawning of a bright new future. At this time the president of the university bids farewell to the seniors, who find the Alumni waiting with open arms ready to welcome them to a dignified and useful life for which their years as students at U.C. has prepared them.

DR. WINFRED G. LEUTNER

Graduation and the lights of Nippert Stadium are bright once again. This time they shine not on cheering football fans, but on quiet and very proud graduates, their families and friends. The capped and gowned procession wends its way into the stadium, and quietly takes its place in the stands. This is the end of four years that have vanished all too soon, and the climax of the rush and excitement of Senior Week has finally arrived. President Walters' solemn words ring clear as he makes his address, and as the graduates listen, their minds begin to wander back to the beginning; the rush parties, getting to 8:30 lectures on time, cramming for those final exams, standing in line for lunch in the grill, football games and school dances. With recollections come thoughts of the future and of what lies ahead. They begin to realize that they have become adults and have to accept the responsibility of facing an adult world. Their years at U. C. have prepared them well for this task and the receiving of their diplomas is the final step in the realization of their dreams during their years of hard work.

Graduation

ONE-WAY TICKET

The long awaited moment has arrived, and as each candidate goes up to receive his diploma, he realizes that he is leaving behind him a life never to be recaptured. The reluctance to leave it is overcome only by the eager anticipation of the new life awaiting him.

CORRIDOR—HANNA HALL

Long before McMicken was formally dedicated on April 28, it had become a functional part of the campus. Housing the colleges of Business Administration and Liberal Arts, this imposing structure had opened its doors and offered its new and numerous facilities to the many who sought higher education within its halls and classrooms.

Biggest Machine In The World . . .

It's so easy to make a telephone call! A five-year-old can do it.
Yet, when you use your telephone you have at your command the biggest, most complex machine ever made by man — ready to whisk your voice across the street or across the country, as you wish. It's BIG to serve the people of the community, of the nation, but its operation is geared to your individual need.

REALTORS..

Every REALTOR is a business man—a good business man or he wouldn't be allowed to use the professional title of REALTOR. Naturally he's in business to make a profit but—he places service to his clients above and before profit. Service Before Profit!

A real estate man must make that pledge before he can be a REALTOR. And he lives up to it not only because the rules governing REALTORS are enforced, but because in the long run, it's a good business to practice.

A good business practice for you is to place your real estate affairs in the hands of a REALTOR, because a REALTOR must have experience, ability, integrity, and follow a golden rule code of business ethics. When you make sure your Real Estate man is a REALTOR you are making sure of complete satisfaction.

Look for REALTOR in classified ads, in the phone book and on business stationery.
